Glendale Knights Templar Receive Harding Beauseant

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY BY LODGE

Hollywood Commandery Is Visitor Here to Take Part In Service

Glendale Knights Templar were specially honored on Monday night, when the International Traveling Beauseant was formally presented to the Glendale commandery by the Hollywood commandery, to which it was consigned August 2 by the commandery of Marion, Ohio, of which the late president, Warren G. Harding, was a member.

The Beauseant was brought to California to be presented by President Harding to the Hollywood commandery, but because of his illness the president was unable to be present, sending his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., who made the presentation but a few hours before the president's sudden death.

Preceding the presentation Monday night a banquet was given in the banquet hall at the Masonic temple. Later, Knights and their families and friends gathered in the lodge room for the formal ceremony.

Back from North

James Wilson, commander of the Hollywood commandery, and thirty of his Knights, all past commanders, accompanied him. They have just returned from the north, where they presented the Beauseant to various commanderies.

The Beauseant was received by Commander Roy V. Hogue, and an escort of past commanders of the Glendale commandery.

Speakers of the evening were Rev. Frank Roudenbush, prelate of the Hollywood commandery; Mattison B. Jones, past commander of the Glendale commandery, and Dr. Hogue.

Rev. Roudenbush is past grand prelate of the state of Ohio, and his eloquent remarks were most fitting. He and Mr. Jones and Dr. Hogue all paid tribute to the late president, and emphasized the ideals of the Knights Templar.

For Fire's Victims

Before closing Dr. Hogue spoke of the recent fire in the northeast hills, where Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan, both Masons, lost their lives. He urged all to contribute to the relief fund.

There are two more big events anticipated by Glendale Knights for the month of October. Next Monday night will be the reception of grand officers, headed by Grand Commander A. E. Boynton of San Francisco. There will be a dinner and semi-public ceremony.

On Monday night, October 29, there will be another dinner, with reception to Deputy Grand Com-

$44,731,159 Cut In U. S. Expenses, Treasury Shows

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—The government has made a good start towards economy for the present fiscal year, the treasury department stated today in announcing federal expenditures for the first quarter anding September 30.

It cost $690,123,486 to run the government for July, August and September, a reduction of $44,731,159 as compared with the same period in 1922.

LIVING COST IN STIFF ADVANCE

September Prices in Marked Contrast With Year's Downward Trend

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The cost of living is advancing again, wholesale prices having jumped nearly 2 3-4 per cent in September, as compared with August, in marked contrast with the downward trend in progress since May, the department of labor announced today.

Clothes and clothing showed the greatest increase over the preceding month, amounting to 4 1-2 per cent and was due mainly to the marked advances in raw silk, print cloths and cotton yarns.

The advances in corn, oats, rye, wheat, cotton, eggs and hay caused the farm products group to rise 3 1-2 per cent in September, as compared with August. A net increase of 3 1-2 per cent is also reported for the food group because of the continued advance in the price of fresh beef, butter, pork, cheese, eggs, flour, lard, corn meal and sugar.

There were continued declines in building materials, the net decrease being over 2 per cent. Small decreases in fuel and lighting and metals and metal products continued.

CLEAN-UP IN DRY FORCE DEMANDED

Separate Unit, Directed by President, Advocated by Indiana Governor

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service

WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 17.—Prohibition never can be strictly enforced unless there is a thorough house cleaning in the personnel of the national dry forces and the federal prohibition unit is placed squarely under the direction and responsibility of the president of the United States.

This startling charge, echoing the challenge of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, to the citizenship conference in Washington, that the president personally assume direction of the liquor law enforcement was made here today by Governor McCray of Indiana, who delivered the address of welcome to the opening session of the fifteenth annual conference of state governors.

Falling like a bombshell among the thirty-two governors assembled for the meeting, McCray's declaration thrust the prohibition question immediately to the fore as the chief controversial problem of the conference, dwarfing the other subjects on the regularly scheduled program for the three-day gathering.

Trouble Looming

Other state executives followed McCray's lead, but with less sensational convictions, and indications from these discussions were that all will not be harmony when the governors' gathering at President Coolidge's "law and order" conference at the White House next Saturday. The general feeling was that states are ready to co-operate with the national administration in upholding the law if certain changes are made in the present federal system of law enforcement.

As the first step to secure more satisfactory results, McCray suggested that the prohibition unit be taken from the treasury department and made a separate entity of the federal government with the chief under personal direction of the president.

CITY CARES FOR FLOOD'S VICTIMS

Oklahomans Recover Quickly From Disastrous Blow Dealt by River

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 17.—Quickly recovering from the disastrous blow dealt by the flood, this city today had in smooth operation a relief organization that was caring for 2,500 homeless persons and adopting measures to assure sanitation and health to those living in the submerged district. Damage that had prevented industrial activity was being repaired.

The small towns of Jones and Spencer, near here, already cut off, were seriously menaced by high water this morning. Today the flood was receding rapidly, heavy rains were reported in the north and it was expected that the north and south Canadian rivers would resume normal aspect within two or three days.

Rush Milk Supplies

Extraordinary efforts were being made to supply milk to the city, a shortage being threatened not only by inability of dairymen to reach town, but by huge losses in cows and equipment suffered on the farms.

The railroad situation was improving, a number of trains making their way out of the city last night and this morning, proceeding by wide detours to their destinations. Enormous losses have been sustained by the rail lines, both steam and electric.

A rough estimate of Oklahoma City's damage is set at three million dollars.

GAS DROPS 2 CENTS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 17.—The Gulf Refining company and the Atlantic Refining company announced a reduction today of two cents a gallon for gasoline. The new price is nineteen cents per gallon, plus a state tax of two cents.

Robert Taylor, 77, Is Initiated Into Pythian Order

Glendale Lodge No. 331, Knights of Pythias, donated $10 toward the fire relief fund, at their regular meeting last night in the K. of P. hall, Park avenue and Brand boulevard.

The meeting was presided over by E. S. Melzer, chancellor commander, and bestowed upon two candidates the rank of knight—Robert Taylor, organizer of Boy Scout Troop No. 1, sponsored by the local K. of P. lodge; and J. Fisher.

Special interest attaches to taking in Mr. Taylor, inasmuch as he is the oldest man ever initiated into the order in California, being 77 years of age. He is a member of the N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., and is well known.

MAILED FIST RESTORES QUIET

Berlin Police Patrol Streets Following Death in Red Rioting

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—This city was quiet today, following the disorders yesterday when one man was killed and about a dozen wounded. Heavy police patrols kept order in the streets. It was officially announced that the central government is keeping the closest watch upon developments in Saxony, where the communists are in control.

Officials declared the government is determined to maintain law and order in Saxony.

General Mueller, commander of the Reichswehr in Saxony, has Poincare received M. Herbett, poissued an order at Dresden that in the future must consider themselves under his authority.

Premier Silenced

A sensational incident occurred in the Saxon diet when the premier was forced to discontinue a speech. Premier Zeigner attacked a political opponent and his remarks became so offensive that the president attempted unsuccessfully to call him to order. Then the president ordered him to keep still or suffer ejection.

The silencing of a premier was a unique precedent in German parliamentary practice.

Poincare Breaks Off Conference With Envoy

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Herr Von Hoesch, German charge d'affaires, conferred for an hour with Premier Poincare today, but the indications were that no progress was made towards a reparations settlement.

The conference lasted from 11:40 to 12:40 o'clock. Owing to its length and the fact that no formal communique was issued, belief sprang up in political circles that Germany had submitted new proposals.

This belief was dissipated when foreign office officials revealed that Premier Poincare had suddenly broken off the meeting. Abruptly reaching for his hat, Premier Poincare said to the German diplomat: "I am sorry, but I have a luncheon engagement."

That terminated the meeting.

After the conference, Premier all Saxon police and gendarmerie litical editor of the semi-official newspaper, Le Temps.

Mother Shoots Son And Takes Own Life

POMONA, Cal., Oct. 17.—While Joseph Wood, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wood, was near death in a local hospital today from a bullet wound inflicted by his mother, funeral arrangements were made for Mrs. Wood, who fatally shot herself after trying to take her son's life.

Fear that she was a victim of tuberculosis, though physicians had assured her she was not, and that her son, who was lil from tonsilitis, had contracted the disease from her, is believed to have caused Mrs. Wood's action. The boy may die.

RUSH POLICE TO QUELL MOROS

Appeal for Regular Troops Flashed to Manila by Scared Filipinos

MANILA, Oct. 17.—All of the constabulary force on Mindanas island is being rushed to Bugon, province of Lanao, where fanatical Moros on the warpath surprised and wiped out a constabulary detachment while attending school.

Lieutenant Magno, three Filipino teachers, a sergeant and ten men are known to have been killed in the attack. The Moros attacked from all sides while the constabulary members were in the school house, which was later burned.

Further details of the uprising had not been received late today.

Appeal for Troops

The Filipino residents of the region appealed to Manila for regular troops to cope with the situation, but it is not believed officially that they will be needed. Hope was expressed that the constabulary will be able to deal with the situation, which is a result of the wave of fanaticism which has been sweeping the Moro population in various provinces.

After an all-day debate the Filipino legislature, sitting in joint session, unanimously approved the resolutions adopted last July by the Independence commission directed against Governor-General Wood. The resolution approves the action of the various cabinet members resigning their portfolios as a protest against alleged infringement upon their powers by the governor-general.

Moro Revolt Spreads To Neighboring Province

MANILA, Oct. 17.—Difficulty in handling the Moros has been increasing during the past few months. Up until the present time the Philippine constabulary has been able to handle the situation. It was believed that with the death of Akbar, a fanatical leader, who claimed powers to withstand bullets and defy airplanes, the movement which he headed would collapse. His followers were defeated in a sanguinary battle three months ago with the constabulary, but the movement which started in Sulu apparently has spread to Lanao, which is located on Mindanao island. Prior to their defeat the followers of Akbar had threatened to wipe out the constabulary force, which is made up of Filipinos.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—All engagements for today were cancelled and David Lloyd George ordered to bed by his physician when the coid, aggravated by fatigue from which the former premier is suffering failed to show the improvement expected.

"Mr. Lloyd George's physicians last night discovered that he had a temperature due to a cold aggravated by fatigue and ordered him to remain in bed. He is somewhat better this morning, but imperative orders have been given to restrict his public engagements."

Sir William announced later that it was hoped Mr. Lloyd George would be able to get up late this afternoon and address the massmeeting at the international Auditorium tonight.

New York-Peking 65-Hour Plane Trip Is Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—A sixty-five hour service from New York to Peking, China, spanning in less than three days the distance which now requires a month, was the prediction here today of General William Mitchell of the United States army air forces.

He said the trip could be made in four hops—from New York to Lake Athabasca Canada; thence to Nome, Alaska; north Amoor river and Peking. Air traffic, he predicted will be the greatest civilizing factor in the future.

ARRESTS TO CLEAR UP MYSTERY

Wife of Missing Realty Man Held, With Companion, On Forgery Charge

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 17.—Prolonged search since 1917 for George E. Schick, wealthy realty operator and investment broker of this city, and scion of the Ohio coal king of his name, achieved a startling climax here today when Schick's wife and a former furniture salesman, E. Drew Clark, were arrested.

They are held on charges of forging the missing man's name to a power of attorney, which gave his wife control of his property, and of contributing to the delinquency of Schick's two children.

When arrested at El Cajon, Mrs. Schick was living under the name of Clark, officers declared, and the two children, August, 7, and George, Jr., when questioned, declared their names were Loomis Drew Clark and Edward Drew Clark, respectively.

Sensational disclosures, which may reveal Schick's whereabouts —dead or alive, were promised soon by officers. Sheriff Byers today planned to dig up the grounds surrounding Schick's two houses here.

BINGHAM, Idaho, Oct. 17.—One man is dead and five others buried under hundreds of tons of rock, and are believed dead as a result of a cave-in at the Utah-Apex mine late yesterday. The body of Dan Eden, 50, foreman, has been recovered. TRIBUTE TO HERO DEAD OF FLAMES

Pay Military Honors to Clarence Edwards at Funeral Services

Following an impressive service in the First Congregational church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the flag-draped casket of Clarence Edwards, deputy city plumbing inspector, who lost his life Saturday, October 13, 1923, while in the heroic service of his city, fighting the flames that menaced Glendale, was escorted by the local American Legion post, No. 127, to Forest Lawn cemetery, where brief exercises were held by Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M.

Upon completion of the Masonic ritual, the Legionnaires once more took charge of their beloved member. A firing squad from the former Ninth Los Angeles Coast Artillery advanced to the open grave, raised their rifles, and a crash of martial sound floated off on the breeze.

Hardly had the reverberations died away when two buglers from the local post took up the beautiful strains of "Taps," one from near the grave and one from below, the distant call echoing fainter and fainter until it died away.

Tribute by Comrades

Interment was in charge of the Kiefer & Eyerick Undertaking company. Capt. J. H. Wittmeyer led the firing squad. Don Packer, second vice commander of the local legion post, was in command, owing to the absence of Chalmer D. Day, commander, and Mitchell Frug, first vice commander, both of whom are in San Francisco attending the national American legion convention.

The pall bearers were Jesse Flowers, Harold Wheeler, George Grist, Lewis Roberts, H. Prussing and Al Bullis.

Services at the Frist Congregational church were in charge of Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor. Rev. B. D. Snuddon, a close friend of the deceased, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale, now of South Pasadena, delivered the funeral address.

Proud Of Service

Keaumoka A. Lewis, baritone, also a close friend of the deceased and a fellow legionnaire, sang two beautiful songs at the church, "Face to Face" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

A special meeting of the local legion post was held at the American legion hall last night, to complete funeral arrangements. The meeting was presided over by Don Packer.

Unity lodge held their regular weekly meeting at the Masonic Temple last night, H. A. Strong,

DOLLARS AID FAMILIES STRICKEN BY FIRE

Money Begins Rolling Into The Evening News Office From Many Sources

The Glendale Realty Board at its regular weekly meeting in Jensen's Egyptian Village voted to contribute $100 to the relief fund for the families of the victime of Saturday's fire, the motion passing unanimously.

Directors of the Glendale College Women's club meeting at the Egyptian Village this noon pledged $10 for the club toward the relief fund.

The big hearted people of Glendale are responding generously and gladly to the appeal for a fund for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who sacrificed their lives fighting flames in the San Rafael hills last Saturday.

Women of the Tuesday Afternoon club yesterday contributed $187 in checks, cash and pledges; boxing fans at the Glendale Athletic club show last night showered dollars, dimes and pennies into the ring for a total of $96.18, other organizations are making preparations to contribute; individuals are sending checks and greenbacks, because—

Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan gave EVERYTHING for others and big-hearted people of Glendale are glad to give a LITTLE to that aged mother, to that widow and her two fatherless children.

Funerals Are Held

Funeral services for Mr. McGahan were held held yesterday; a military funeral for Mr. Edwards was held this afternoon.

And as prayers were said for the dead, financial aid came for the living—for those who have to face the world and its worries with uncertain future.

People of Glendale know this—and they are giving, gladly. Women know the problems before that aged mother, women know the problems before that widow with two children—that's why the Tuesday Afternoon club heads the list of subscriptions today.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell states that contributions can be made at any time by club members and friends with Mrs. A. A. Barton in the clubhouse office. She further states that the club members will be given an opportunity to add to the relief fund at the club meeting next Tuesday afternoon. THE WOMEN KNOW the problems ahead of Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. McGahan!

Thanks from Mrs. Edwards

And in the midst of ner grief comes words of thanks from the mother of Clarence Edwards.

"I want to thank the people of Glendale from the bottom of my heart for their sympathy in this hour of bereavement," said Mrs. Johanna Edwards, as she called at The Glendale Evening News office this morning to obtain copies of the edition containing the story of her son's supreme sacrifice.

"Hundreds of people have come to my home to share with me my grief—my loss of my darling boy," said the heart-broken mother.

Legion Fights Centering on Klan, Air Disarmament And New National Leader

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—After two days of play, delegates to the fifth annual convention of the American Legion, pledged to put across the most constructive program in the history of the organization, buckled down today to business. Wheels of the convention were whirled into action to bring about plans before the meeting ends Saturday which will provide better care for sick and wounded ex-service men, homes for veterans' orphans, placing of the adjusted compensation before congress and an increased Legion membership.

Leaders in the convention made it clear today that these were the vital items of business before the veterans but bobbing behind the scenes were side features furnished by the proposed anti-Ku Klux Klan resolution, protest against the limitation of air armament and a reported attack upon the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the Legionnaires.

Work Before Play Today

It was claimed by the national officers and chairmen of the various committees in charge of the work of the body that the constructive program promised the veterans would be outlined at the convention and as small amount of time as possible would be devoted to other work.

After a bitter fight in an executive session, the resolutions committee was reported to be prepared today to bring forth an anti-Klan resolution. Whether the resolution would ever reach the floor of the convention was doubted by many but supporters of the resolution claimed they had sufficient strength to insure its passage.

"We are tired of pussy-footing around about the Klan and it is high time the Legion took a stand in this matter," one member of the resolutions committee told International News Service.

Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller is chairman of the resolutions committee and announced today that the committee would be ready to report Thursday. He declined to com-

Enthusiasm at Meet Of Oratorio Section

Enthusiasm and inspiration for a season of interesting work under the direction of John Smallman, vocalist and director of Los Angeles, was the feature of the first meeting of the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club last night at the high school.

There were fifty members of the club present to sign up for the course. It was unanimously decided that Mendelssohn's "Elijah" will be the first oratorio studied for presentation in May.

Mrs. Perry Rogers, talented pianist, is to serve as accompanist. Mrs. C. A. Parker is chairman of the section; Miss Myrtle Pulliam secretary; Mrs. Spencer Robinson, membership chairman; and Mrs. E. W. Kinney, business manager.

Only members of the music club are eligible to membership.

All music for the oratorio work will be ordered through Glendale music stores.

South Dakotans Buy Out Realty Concern

Phillips & Horn report that they have sold their real estate business at 612 East Broadway to Walter Gratias, who, with his brother, Samuel Gratias, have disposed of the holdings in South Dakota and come to this city to engage in the realty and building business.

Walter Gratias will handle the real estate end of the office, while Samuel Gratias will open up a contracting and building schedule that will soon reach the proportions of a house a day, he feels.

Both men have looked into Glendale prospects very carefully and are satisfied the future is bright here in realty and building lines.

Final Tribute Paid Heroes
Fire Insurance Necessary
'Justice' in French Eyes
Building Costs Mount

By Gil A. Cowan

Today final earthly tribute is being paid the life of Clarence Edwards, former service man, an employe of the city of Glendale, sterling, stalwart character. Words fail to express compassion felt by the community for sorrowing relatives.

Yesterday it was the same story at the funeral of J. W. McGahan, whose widow and two children must carry on. Mr. McGahan was fighting to protect his home in Sycamore canyon when he met his death in the brush flames.

And, while we grieve for the dead, we cannot forget the living. There is Mr. Magee, fearfully burned; there is Ignacio Lucia, also burned; there is Mr. Edwards' mother advertising property for sale today in order to meet the expenses of the funeral for her son and support.

Readers of The Glendale Evening News should respond most liberally to the plea that this city do something material to alleviate the pain of death that these two heroic firefighters wrought upon their relatives. Some compensation greater than a mere day's pay must be given that those who have suffered shall not live in misery.

It is not charity or mercy, simply justice.

Fire prevention week was a misnomer during the past seven days. That is, so far as Southern California was concerned. The fire underwriters have good cause to insist that more protection be afforded their risks.

Glendale and Los Angeles had only a favorable wind to thank for saving the many residences in the fire area. The same salvation was accorded Berkeley. Too much protection cannot be afforded against fire.

Incidentally, did you know the first fire insurance company was organized in 1667 following the great London conflagration?

And since that time insurance has been a necessary commodity.

In other countries they do some things which appear odd to us, yet we likely do as foolish things in our courts of justice as the one commented upon by the Santa Ana Register recently as follows:

"American freak court verdicts were gone one better the other day when a French jury acquitted a man who had stolen $20,000 from the American Express Company's offices in Paris. The attorney for the defense argued that youth will be youth, that American concerns have become enormously wealthy by exploiting the French people and that the French exchange has yielded a rich harvest. The jury deliberated only five minutes.

"Little incidents such as this one are apt to give Americans a much more wholesome respect for our much abused juries. One may find a cynical smile in the fact that a woman murderess escapes punishment and that the war-time profiteer has squirmed under the charges. Perhaps the derision is warranted. But no American jury can be charged with such a travesty on justice as that exhibited by the well-meaning but stupid French court."

"Building Costs Mount" says the Santa Barbara News. Well, what of it? It is cheaper to build than not to. We might as well face the issue squarely, but to know the facts is nothing to worry about. The News editorial says:

"Figures compiled by one of the great New York banks show that in spite of the fact that building costs are about 122 per cent above those of 1914, there is no indication of a halt in building activity of the nation as a whole.

"Building permits for August are well over $256,000,000, a gain of about $15,000,000 over the preceding month, and the prospective activity, in the opinion of the financial authorities, will continue well into the new year.

"The manufacturers furnish additional proof of the continuance of the high rate of building. During the month of August the cement plants of the country turned out 12,967,000 barrels of cement, setting a new high record for all time.

"Of course this cement is not all used for building. The extensive road construction in progress in all parts of the country calls for immense quantities of this material.

"Just at this time when the experts looked for a softening of the demand the Japanese earthquake brought a call for materials which already has had marked effect on prices. Because of the adoption of American standards of building, the Japanese demand is likely to continue for an indefinite time.

"American timber and steel must furnish the materials for the reconstruction of Tokio and Yokohama as there is no other adequate source of supply.

"Until there comes a slackening in the demand for building there seems little hope of a fall in construction prices. It is likely, therefore, that the American people must reconcile themselves to continue to pay high rents."

Evolution's Seamy Side Will Be Shown

A special feature of the Wednesday night meeting at the Tropico Presbyterian church is a stereopticon lecture tonight in the social hall by Harry Rimmer, on "The Seamy Side of Evolution" to which the Christian Endeavor and the young people of the church are especially invited. Mr. Rimmer will be remembered as doing evangelistic work among the young people of Glendale last winter, and is a very interesting speaker.

HOT FIGHT OVER DRY ISSUE LOOMS

Conference of Governors to Sparkle at White House This Week End

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The conference of state governors which President Coolidge has called to meet at the White House this week-end has been lifted out of the ruck of commonplace things. It now bids fair to become an outstanding political event with an important bearing on next year's presidential campaign.

Governor Gifford Pinchot's outspoken challenge to President Coolidge to take personal command of prohibition enforcement and the quick rebuke administered to the Pennsylvania governor by such a prominent Republican as former Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, made this certain.

Instead of being a quiet week-end party at the White House, featuring lofty platitudes about the beauties of law enforcement and the sacredness of the constitution, the meeting now promises to provide some clashing and fireworks that will make political history.

President Coolidge does not intend, his friends say, to accept "in meekness and humility" the challenge of Pinchot without a stiff reply. He intends to reply vigorously to Mr. Pinchot and serve notice that enforcement of laws in this country is as much up to state and local authorities as it is to the federal government.

The president already is working on his speech. He talked it over with some of his cabinet members in the last twenty-four hours.

Eastern Star Opens Fiftieth Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The fiftieth annual convention of the Order of the Eastern Star opened here yesterday with 2,000 delegates from 400 towns and cities of California in attendance. Seventeen new chapters will be granted charters today and an election of officers for 1924 will be held.

Cheesman Appointed New Scout Executive

Harold S. Benner, who has held the position of Scout Executive of the Verdugo Hills District Council, has resigned, effective October 15, and will be succeeded by Harvey R. Cheesman, who has been in charge of the Boy Scout work in Ventura county.

Mr. Cheesman, who is expected here about November 1, has made an enviable record in his Ventura county post, according to officials of the Verdugo Hills District Council. Pending his arrival here the offices of the organization have been closed, but anyone wishing to secure any information regarding the work of the organization can do so from A. R. Eastman, president of the council, at the Glendale State bank.

Several additional troops are in process of formation and their organization will be completed shortly after Mr. Cheesman's arrival.

Mr. Benner will engage in the real estate business in Los Angeles for the present, but he may later yield to the urging of Chief Scout Executive Miller of Los Angeles and return to the work in which he has spent so much time.

Chiropractors to Sue State Medical Board

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17.—The Western College of Chiropractics of San Francisco has laid the basis for a suit against the state board of medical examiners to force the board to issue drugless healing licenses.

Three graduates of the school appeared before the state board and asked for licenses, which were denied. Efforts of the chiropractic school to secure licenses for its graduates from the board of medical examiners are being made because of the fact that members of the state board of chiropractic examiners have been ousted, leaving no board to license the chiropractors.

ORGANIZE PLANS TO AID BEREAVED

C. of C. Committee to Outline Method to Raise Funds At Next Meeting

An organized effort on a large scale to secure aid for the families of Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan, who lost their lives in the fire that menaced Glendale last Saturday, will be planned by a committee to be appointed by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, it was decided at last night's meeting of the board of directors. The committee will report at the next meeting.

President Jesse E. Smith, declaring that the two men laid down their lives in protecting the lives and property of their fellow citizens of Glendale, said that prompt action must be taken to raise funds to insure that the spectre of want and poverty be driven away from the bereaved families.

J. F. McClish, representing the American Legion, stated that his organization had already discussed the proposal to stage a benefit show for the families of the two men, planning a performance in which all local organizations could take part.

Declaring that the two men died just as much in the defense of their city as though they had faced the foe with guns in their hands, instead of shovels, City Manager W. H. Reeves advocated the erection of a suitable memorial to the two men, either in the city park or at the City Hall.

Taxes Reveal Steady Business Expansion

That every line of business in Southern California has entered into a period of steady expansion is indicated by an increase in internal revenue taxes listed for assessment in 1923 of $8,273,810.05. The unprecedented gain in taxes assessed was disclosed in a report sent to Washington yesterday by Collector Rex Goodcell.

Collector Goodcell's survey shows that from January 1 to October 1, the total amount of taxes listed for assessment was $49,564, 225.27, compared with $41,290,415.22 for the same period of 1922. The gain was 20 per cent.

With a $7,000,000 reduction in income taxes the collections for 1923 will reach the $40,000,000 mark, a pronounced gain over 1922, while theater admissions taxes will total approximately $3,200,000 compared with $950,000 in 1918 and $2,782,000 in 1922.

THE SIX VICTORIA

One of the real events of the enclosed car season is the smart Nash Six Victoria.

Set expertly low to the road and toned a beautiful Nash Blue, it is an attractive and picturesque sight.

The sweeping lines denoted by the lengthened fenders are emphasized in the body by the long, graceful roll of the rear deck.

And a conspicuous feature is the new slanted windshield that serves a practical purpose, too, in broadening the driver's area of vision.

At the rear a large metal trunk is built in the deck.

Aluminum guard bars are mounted atop the trunk; and the appointments include a rear-vision mirror; combination flush-type vanity and smoking set; heater, vase, automatic windshield wiper; and many other conveniences.

The passenger capacity is arranged for four grown people, with a child's seat directly behind the driver and away from the doors.

This Victoria model is the only car of its type in this price-class.

OXY FROSH PLAY CURTAIN RAISER

Eagle Rock Team Will Meet Bakersfield Eleven at Coliseum Saturday

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News

Oxy Frosh eleven will meet Bakersfield high school next Saturday afternoon at the Los Angeles Coliseum in a curtain raiser for the big, important Occidental college varsity game with Stanford university. The frosh game starts at 1 p. m. and the varsity game at 3 p. m.

Coach Tuffy Conn's peagreeners from Eagle Rock have a hard job on their hands to wallop the Oildrillers. Neither team has been scored upon during the early season games. Last week the Bakersfield crew met the strong Manual Arts team and battled to a scoreless tie. The same day the Tiger babes defeated Dinuba 19 to 0. The Oil kings had already disposed of Dinuba in good fashion also.

The two teams are hard hitters, heavy, and fast as lightning, and they work with clock-like smoothness. Last season the northern team copped the state championship and but few of their lettermen have graduated. Oxy has been fortunate in landing many prominent prep stars who are holding their own and living up to their past reps.

Plenty of Material

Mike Godet, captain of the Oxy frosh and former Franklin high player who was chosen all-city prep end last season, is a masterful grid demon, and pride of the yearlings. There are seven Franklin high football men on the Oxy frosh team, five of whom are three and four-year lettermen. Most of the southern prep schools have added one or two stars to the large group of candidates for the freshmen eleven. Hollywood has Mishkin; Covina has Pitzer and McHann; Santa Ana boasts of Buxton and McFadden; Fullerton sends Gregory and Neely; San Diego Army and Navy gave to the Tigers Hall and Daggs; Woodlake is represented by Purser; from Redondo come Soule and Deaver; Riverside has Gardner; Puente sent Coudie; Swame Military academy in Montana sent Wells, all-state fullback, to Oxy; Pacific Grove has Hurlbert; Pasadena has Black and Wilshire; Long Beach has Betts and Greg; while Monrovia has Brodhead, and Lincoln has McKay.

With an array of stars such as the above, Coach Tuffy Conn will give Bakersfield a run for their money and should make the game more than interesting for the visitors. The fact that Bakersfield eleven have been playing together for several years and have had more opportunity for teamwork places them as the probable winners against the Tiger babes, who have not been practicing together very long.

Phillips of Kentucky in Tijuana Meeting

TIJUANA, Mexico, Oct. 17.—A famous family of Kentuckians in the thoroughbred world carries the name of Phillips. For years they have bred, trained and raced horses and the House of Phillips has appeared innumerable times in the victory column.

Phillips of Kentucky will be represented at the Tijuana meeting this winter by Clyde Phillips, and a glance at the names of horses in his string is convincing that again a Phillips will score a big measure of success.

A telegram from Phillips just received by the Tijuana Jockey Club says he will race a string of twelve runners at Tijuana, and accordingly stabling has been reserved for him. The thoroughbreds in the Phillips lot are Moonraker, Exodus, Galantman, Romping Home, Eulalia, Fredericksburg, Calando, Valintra and three colts.

'Hi' Football Players to Learn Fine Points

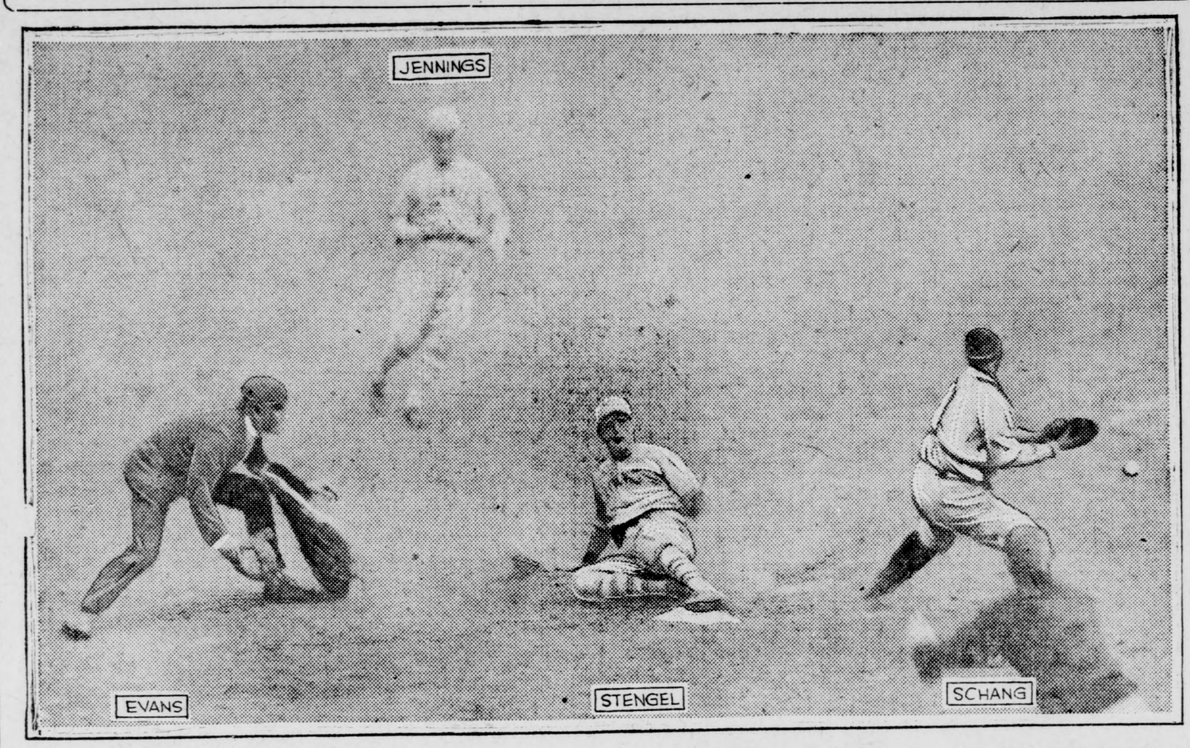
"Pep" will be generated in high school football players in preparation for the contests Thursday and Friday, when football assemblies will be held Wednesday at the high school auditorium. All the gymnasium classes will go to the auditorium, there to be addressed on the fine points of the game by coaches, expert players and student body officers. A yell and song fest will conclude each assembly.

The football season opens formally Friday when the local heavyweights will play South Pasadena, at that place, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. South Pasadena's lightweights will play the local lightweights in Glendale Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Athletic Officers Elected by Students

Earl Fittenger was elected president of the Glendale Avenue Athletic association by a majority of two votes, at the annual election held yesterday at the school. Beth Patterson is vice-president and Eileen Gridley, secretary. Miss Gladys Sharpe of the faculty is treasurer.

Camera Catches Stengel Scoring on Homer!



When Casey Stengel stumbled into home plate after driving out his homer in first game. Note how Catcher Schang of Yanks, at right, missed the throw home. The ball is at the extreme right.

This photo marks an epoch in world series history and in the life of Casey Stengel, Giant outfielder. When this oft traded and cast off player slammed out a home run in the ninth inning of the first game between the Yanks and Giants and won it for the National leaguers he won one of the most bitterly fought battles in the history of the fall classics. And, by the same blow, he boosted himself and his bat into the world series hall of fame. Stengel's homer was inside the park

EDDY BYRD TAPS M'LAUGHLIN HARD

Knockout Finishes Thrilling Main Event of Glendale Athletic Club Card

Eddy Byrd of Glendale gave Andy McLaughlin of Burbank the quietus last night in the second round of the heavyweight event at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, dropping his man like a log with a savage left hook to the jaw.

For some seconds the fallen contender from Burbank lay in a deep sleep, and scores of the hundreds who had witnessed the bouts, of which this was the windup, crowded about the ringside and surged up on the platform.

But ultimately McLaughlin revived and left the auditorium sagging heavily. The crowds that had waited for this sign that all was well then filed out and down the stairs, enthusiastic over this initial card of the Glendale Athletic club boxing season, arranged by Les Marston, matchmaker.

The semi-final event, contested by Packie Flynn and Battling Ward, was enlivened by the presence of Jim Jeffries, one-time world's champion, as referee. Bald and slow and slightly stooped, seeing Jim move about the ring seemed a dream. As he heard the quick cries and shouts as the two youths, full of vigor and health, flashed around over the canvas, did he recall the thunderous plaudits of thousands that had once been his, when the eyes of the world were upon him?

At the end of four fast roundes, Flynn and Ward retreated to their corners, groggy and winded, the bout a draw.

Other Bouts on Bill

In the first bout on the card Young Salos beat Lou Garcia by decision. In the second, Jack Carr and Kid Payo fought a fast draw. In the third, Jim Racer kayoed K. O. Chano, in the first, with a sharp right to the stomach.

A special bout was fought by little Benny Leonard and Rocky Kansas, both in the forty-pound class, two local juveniles who came out to stage a benefit for the familes of Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan, the two Glendale men who died in the foothill fire Saturday.

Probably the best bout staged, from the standpoint of skill exhibited, was the fast four rounds between Dick Dixson of Pasadena and Kid Williams of Lankershim, given by decision to Dixon.

When Lieut. W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department made an appeal for funds for the families of the fire victims who gave their lives to save Glendale, a shower of silver and gold rained into the ring. The total amount raised was reported this morning at $95.43.

Frank Kerwin, secretary of the Southern California Baseball Managers' association, and a well-known Los Angeles sport writer, spoke of the forthcoming Winter league season, when, for the first time, Glendale will enter a team.

"This is the fastest winter circuit in America," he said, "and Glendale is the most progressive city in Southern California. What the result should be is a team from Glendale that will make them all step a little faster."

The proceeds from last night's bouts will go to further baseball in Glendale, this being one of the prime reasons for the organization of the Glendale Athletic club.

Praise Due

Les Marston, matchmaker for last night's fine card, hands special praise to Sergeant A. J. Kerns of the Glendale police department, who trained Eddy Byrd and Jim Racer, both local boys, each scoring knockouts in last night's exercises.

Chick Watson of Glendale, himself an ex-fighter, refereed all events with the exception of the semi-final, over which Jim Jeffries presided.

King and Queen Attend Races to See Cesarewitch

LONDON, Oct. 17.—King George and Queen Mary went to the Newmarket racetrack this afternoon and witnessed the running of the famous Cesarewitch, which was won by A. K. Maccomber's Rose Prince, American jockey.

Teresina finished second and Ceylonese, the favorite, third.

King George's London Cry, was second choice in the betting.

Good Race Promised By Papyrus' Jockey

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—"Whatever the outcome, we'll make a good race of it. And may the best horse win."

Steve Donaghue, American-born premier jockey of England, here to ride Papyrus, English derby winner, at Belmont park Saturday in the $100,000 international stakes against Zev, America's kingpin three-year-old today, declined to venture predictions as to the outcome.

"Over in England they think Papyrus has very little chance," he continued. "What do I think? Well, I wouldn't have come all the way over if I didn't believe we had a chance to win."

Donaghue is small, but powerfully built. He is four feet, 11½ inches tall, and weighs 112 pounds.

Plan Closer Federal Control of U. S. Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A new policy for operating the government's huge mercantile fleet, by which all shipping board vessels will be placed under more direct federal control, has been outlined this afternoon by Chairman Edward T. Farley. The plan includes the placing of government officials in charge of direct operation of the fleet.

REDS HELD IN PLOT

WARSAW, Oct. 17.—Many reds were arrested today in a gigantic round-up by police in Warsaw, Posen, Crakow and Lvov. Large quantities of ammunitions and arms were seized. Communist leaders are charged with fomenting revolution in upper Silesia.

JOHN PLANS CHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Although John McGraw declined today to discuss his plans for next season, it was intimated in baseball circles that he intended to make sweeping changes in his pitching staff.

NICE WEATHER, HUH?

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—The fourth game of the Baltimore-Kansas City post-season series was postponed for the third time today on account of a muddy field.

WHITE SOX BOSS, GLEASON RESIGNS

Tried to Rebuild Club After Scandal; Team Made Poor Showing

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—William "Kid" Gleason, veteran manager of the Chicago White Sox, today confirmed reports that his resignation had been handed to Charles A. Comiskey to take effect immediately.

The manager of the famous team which he once coached to a world's championship and which, under his direction, was broken up and entirely disintegrated in the Black Sox scandal following the 1919 world series, said conditions have become such that he resigned in order to "save Mr. Comiskey" the embarrassment of relieving him if it was desired.

"Yes, I have resigned," Gleason told International News Service. "I decided I just wanted to get away for a while. The standing of the club at the finish of the season had nothing whatever to do with my resignation. I have no plans for 1924. There was no misunderstanding of any kind. Everyone has treated me just fine."

Rumors have been recurrent throughout the last season that the miserable showing of the White Sox would lead to dismissal of the veteran, but each time these reports have been denied.

Last winter efforts were made to induce Gleason to sign a contract to manage the Detroit Tigers, but they failed. Gleason refused to entertain the proposition because he wanted to rebuild the White Sox after having been forced to wreck the club. It was also reported with considerable authority that efforts had been made to induce Comiskey to part with Gleason for the benefit of the New York Yankees and that when this failed Eddie Collins was sought by New York. Both deals failed.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—James A. MacRea, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad, died at the Alleghany hospital at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon from pneumonia.

C. OF C. ENDORSES BASEBALL PLANS

Formation of Winter League Club for Glendale Is Favored at Meet

The project to include Glendale in the new Triple A Winter league that is being organized by the Southern California Baseball Managers' association advanced a step further last night when the Glendale Chamber of Commerce endorsed the plan to establish a club here, as outlined in a letter addressed to the advertising committee and favorably passed upon by the members.

L. H. Wilson, for the advertising committee, submitted a letter from Frank A. Kerwin and G. E. Leischner, of Los Angeles, who are behind the plan to establish a semi-pro club here and who, it is declared, have already secured a lease on a site suitable for the erection of a ball park, with stands to seat several thousand people. The Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league and the Boston Red Sox are already negotiating for training quarters in Glendale in preparation for next season, and it is practically certain that Glendale will be selected as the site for the spring training of both teams.

The men behind the new club are investing heavily here, it is stated, to give this city a first class baseball team, and they are anxious to secure the co-operation of local business men in making the venture a success.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood" shows at the Glendale theatre for the last times today. No character in history or legend ever appealed more to the imagination for his dashing verve than that of this bold outlaw; and no actor within the memory of man was given a more magnificent opportunity to show his skill than Douglas Fairbanks in this, his latest and greatest film.

Allan Dwan, director of the spectacle, has made many big pictures, but none so big as "Robin Hood," which, for sheer immensity of scope, for gigantic sets and armies of players, fairly staggers the mathematical faculty.

"Robin Hood" is, above all, a romance, breathing the gentle spirit of love in the greenwood. It tells of an England of long ago—"Merrie England, when knights were bold and ladies fair."

THE GATEWAY

"Affinities," starring pretty Colleen Moore, is the picture today at the Gateway theatre, a dainty romance that at times attains dramatic heights and is pervaded with a charming undercurrent of vivacious humor.

Colleen Moore is steadily rising in the celluloid world. Those who remember how delightfully she played opposite Harry Myers in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will not be disappointed with the role she carries in the present offering.

In addition, several acts of good vaudeville are on the boards of the Gateway theatre today.

Starting tomorrow, "The Midnight Alarm" comes to this playhouse, starring Alice Calhoun. Vitagraph star, in a daring romance, directed by David Smith. The star is supported by a cast that includes Percy Marmout, Cullen Landis and Joseph Kilgour.

BEARS CRIPPLED BY OLYMPICS

Struggle Saturday Costly in Loss of Men; Cards Now Have Good Chance

By J. EVERT SMITS
Written for The Evening News

BERKELEY, Oct. 17.—With three of her best backfield men out of the game on account of injuries, California outfought the Olympic club eleven last Saturday in a struggle that brought out football of the highest calibre on both teams. Not once was a first down made in the first half, and the Bears were unable to show any superiority over the club men until the end of the third quarter when Bill Blewett placed a drop kick between the goal posts for the first three points.

This advantage gave the Bruins the necessary punch to gain yardage against the heavy line of the Olympics, and by constantly calling on the line-plunging Whittier they were able to put the ball across the goal line for another six points, and Blewett converted for the additional marker. It was this duo who were responsible for the 16 to 0 victory of the California squad.

With four victories to their credit and their goal line still uncrossed, the Bears are already looking longingly at another conference championship. It is apparent that they will be one of the final contenders.

Cards Show Well

Stanford defeated Santa Clara 55 to 6. California defeated her 48 to 0. For the first time this season direct comparison can be made between the Cards and the Bears, and it would appear that they stack up on just about even terms. Last Saturday U. S. C. put over a 33 to 0 win on Nevada, while the best Stanford could do the week before was 27 to 0. All of which goes to prove that there are at least three teams on the Pacific coast this year that have about an even chance at the championship.

By rolling up such a huge score against the Mission team Andy Kerr's men demonstrated throughout the game that the long-awaited punch has come to them.

The game was marked by many fumbles on both sides, but was remarkably free from penalties. Next Saturday the Cards will be seen in action against the Oxy eleven on Patterson field.

WASHINGTON SEES TROJAN INVASION

U. S. C. Gridiron Warriors Tackle Northwesterners In Crucial Battle

By 'DOC' McGILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff

With some twenty-six or twenty-eight University of Southern California football players in town, gridiron fans in Seattle and throughout Washington are preparing to witness the biggest battle of the year Saturday afternoon when the Trojans from the Southland tangle with the highly touted Washingtonians on the latter's stamping grounds. It will be the first out-of-town struggle of any note for "Gloomy" Henderson's crew since their memorable trip to Berkeley two years ago, and followers up and down the coast are waiting to see how the powerful Cardinal and Gold squad will appear away from Los Angeles.

Early dope favors U. S. C. to win, although the two squads have not met any common foes and no absolute data is accessible. U. S. C.'s overwhelming victory over the Wolf Pack from the University of Nevada last Saturday firmly established "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's eleven as one of the real contenders for the 1923 far western gridiron supremacy. On the other hand Coach Enoch Bagshaw's record has not been so impressive. Reputed to have one of the heaviest and fastest elevens seen in the northwest during the past several years, Washington followers were surprised to see their pets held to a 19 to 0 count last Saturday by Whitman college.

Casting aside all the dope, Saturday's contest in Seattle promises to be a battle from start to finish, both teams being on edge for the fray and the northerners in particular being "pointed" for the Sons of Troy. Henderson and Bagshaw, rival coaches, formerly tutored contending high school tanbark machines and their desire to "walk over" each other in the big time should be sufficient guarantee of a good game.

Tex Rickard Gets Two New Bouts Lined Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—According to an announcement made public today by Tex Rickard, acceptance of terms for a bout with Tom Gibbons late in December has been made by Georges Carpentier, light heavy-weight champion.

Plans are also being laid by Rickard, it is reported, for a meeting between Harry Wills and Bill Tate, leading negro heavyweights.

COMPILING DATA ON SEWER COSTS

Councilman Kimlin Declares Situation Critical, In Report to C. of C.

Complete data giving the cost of Glendale's proposed sewer system will be available within the next two weeks, according to a report by Councilman C. E. Kimlin before the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, in which he recounted the steps that are being taken by the City Council to hasten the preliminary work and to secure accurate figures on the amount that the system will cost the taxpayers of the city.

The sewer situation is critical, Mr. Kimlin asserted, and every effort must be made not only by the city officials, but by every organization and every individual in Glendale to insure the passage of the bonds and to afford Glendale relief from the present dangerous condition that exists through the lack of sewers.

Ninety days, the time allowed under the contract with Los Angeles, affords very little time to put through a project of this magnitude, he claimed, especially when Glendale's needs for fifty years ahead must be considered.

Tells P. O. Plans

Assistant Postmaster George Hallett was present and explained the present status of the new postoffice plans, stating that, in his opinion, the expense of the new building is amply justified by the increase shown in postal receipts here each year.

Engineer H. Z. Osborne, of the Los Angeles traffic commission, is making a survey of the proposed bridge site at Ivanhoe crossing, south of Glendale, as well as of two other possible sites, according to a letter received from the commission.

The Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution, to be sent to the California delegations in congress, urging that the present budget system for handling the finances of the United States be maintained in operation.

The proposal contained in a letter from the Exchange club, that the luncheon clubs of the city hold a quarterly get-together meeting, will be taken up in detail by the Chamber of Commerce in a conference with the heads of the various clubs.

Means of securing improvement in the local service of the Western Union Telegraph company were suggested by Gil A. Cowan, who urged that the entire matter of better telegraphic service here formed a matter for consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and by the establishment of an office here that would be divorced from the Los Angeles office of the company.

The Chamber of Commerce will assemble additional data on the industrial situation here with a view to considering the establishment of a separate industrial department in the Chamber, to aid in bringing more factories here. Secretary E. F. Sanders pointed out that Pasadena has established such a department in its Chamber of Commerce and is seeking to build up a foundation of commerce to insure itself against business slumps.

G. Clay Goodloe, membership secretary, reported on collections since the first of this month, which total $1,143.75.

Sacramento Is Just 413 Miles Away

Peter Hanson knows just how far it is from Sacramento to Glendale, for when he returned home from the convention Sunday night his speedometer showed just 413 miles for the trip. He left Saturday morning.

What is more, "our Peter" never stopped except for fuel (including sustenance both for the machine and its occupants) all the way down, making the run in approximately one day.

ham, eggs and coffee. It was indicated that luncheon, too, would be served him in bed.

From this, those grouped around the sixteen rooms occupied by the Lloyd George party in the Drake hotel concluded that the statesman's doctors had ordered him to bed more for the rest than because of any alarming symptoms.

It was learned today that last night Mr. Lloyd George slipped away to a small fruit shop near his hotel, where he bought an ample supply of apples, pears and peaches. Members of his party explained that he is very fond of fruit and manages always to have it about him.

Dame Margaret Lloyd George and their daughter, Miss Megan, slept far into the forenoon, having been guests at a theatre party of Mrs. General Charles G. Dawes last night.

Long Jaunt Leaves Four Horsemen Sore

"Four Horsemen" of Glendale today are nursing aches and pains. They are the officers who have been scouring the Verdugo hills in search of possible victims of the fire.

Riding constantly Monday afternoon from 1 o'clock until dark, and from 7 o'clock Tuesday morning until dark, Lieut. W. J. Royle, Sergt. J. D. Cole, and Motor Officer M. H. Collins and Dan Armur, all admit that they are "used up."

"When you have not been in a saddle for twenty years a ride like the one we have just taken makes an impression—on your mind," Mr. Cole asserts.

Little Brown Jug to Be Explained Today

A "little brown jug" at the police station, said to be full of "powerful" moonshine whiskey, carefully sealed by officers, will be placed before Police Judge F. H. Lowe this afternoon and Juan Lerma, 1417 South San Fernando road, will be given an opportunity to explain how the jug came to be under his arm. Officer Young brought Lerma to the station at 1 o'clock this, Wednesday, morning, where he was detained on the charge of transporting intoxicating liquor.

WALLS

that are really kept clean

Dirt, dust and grime can be washed from walls that are painted with Patton's Velumina. We recommend this oil flat wall paint. It has no pores. Even grease cannot penetrate its hardy film. All blemishes are merely surface marks and are easily washed away.

Architects and decorators recognize the utility, economy and decorative possibilities of Velumina. You will find Velumina on walls in some of the finest homes. We have it in white and sixteen attractive tones—none of the harsh, blatant effects, glaring effects—but velvety, glossless tones that bespeak refinement and good taste.

Consider Velumina when you redecorate. We have also paints, varnishes and enamels for any purpose. We will be glad to consult with you about the paint you need for any job.

Legion Facing Three Big Battles Today

ment on what action the committee might take on any of the resolutions before it.
Interest increased today in the contest for election of the successor to National Commander Alvin Owsley, who will be named Friday. William Deegan of New York, runner-up at last year's convention, was prominently mentioned today as the next Legion chief, while the cohorts of Drain of Pennsylvania, Edwards of Massachusetts, Swayle of Washington and others were actively at work for their candidates.
At the same time caucuses of various delegations were numerous and it was predicted that a dark horse was being groomed for the high honor.

Views on World Peace

All talk of world peace will fall upon deaf ears until all the women of all nations make an organized demand for peace, was the message given the delegates by Dr. Kate Waller Barrett of Alexandria, Va., national president of the American Legion auxiliary. Mrs. Barrett, Robert E. Bondy, director of war service, American Red Cross, and William J. McGinley, supreme secretary, Knights of Columbus, were the principal speakers this morning.
Mrs. Barrett said that the Legion was the first organization of fighting men to call the women of the country to stand alongside them in time of peace and she urged the wives, mothers and sisters of the veterans to band themselves together so that that opportunity to aid in bringing about world peace would not pass unchallenged.

Rehabilitation Report

Although the sum of $5,880,000 was expended by the Red Cross during the last year upon disabled persons and although the Red Cross has carried out an intensive program of aid for the sick and wounded, Mr. Bondy said the rehabilitation work of the Red Cross and the Legion had just started.
"Creation of that mental attitude which means independence and self-reliance to give sick and injured veterans proper initiative is essential," declared Mr. Bondy.
Secretary McGinley pledged the support and co-operation of his organization in the Legion's campaign on behalf of ex-service men.
National Commander Alvin Owsley this morning spoke at the dedication of the plaque of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Spreckels at the California Legion of Honor memorial.

Spectacle in Air

This afternoon the Legionnaires stretched their necks and watched a program of the latest tricks of the air as developed by the aviation forces of the army, navy and marines. Bombing of a toy fort, sky-to-land communication, acrobatic and combat demonstrations and re-fueling of a plane in the air were among the stunts on the aviation program, which was supplemented by a military review at Crissey field. A score of combat, torpedo and scout planes performed for San Francisco and its guests.
Interest in the air show was keen, following the announcement that the Legion would more than likely demand an increased air defense program as its answer to Commander Owsley's plan for a conference for limitation of aircraft.
The aviation committee, headed by Reed Landis, son of "Baseball King" Landis, has recommended development of a merchant air marine as well as decided increases in army, navy and marine air fleets.

Auxiliary in Session

At the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary, plans were discussed today for fighting the drug evil and communism. A definite program to combat narcotic sales and activities of radicals is planned by the auxiliary.
At a meeting of the La Societe Des 40 Hommes Et 8 Chevaux, the merry-making club of the veterans, which is meeting jointly with the Legion, plans were made for a monster parade to be staged Thursday night. Members of the organization were scheduled also to take part tonight in an electrical parade with other Legionnaires.

Exchange Club Puts O. K. on Sewer Plan

The Glendale Exchange club unanimously endorsed the sewer contract between this city and Los Angeles, at today's luncheon meeting at Jensen's Egyptian Village cafe, following a straight-from-the- shoulder talk by Councilman C. E. Kimlin and a rousing substantiation by Dr. H. R. Harrower, who pledged to the project the full support of his laboratory force.
The club voted to furnish Dr. Harrower with a letter to read before the Glendale Rotary club when he addresses that body tomorrow noon at their weekly luncheon, the letter to suggest that all local luncheon clubs combine in a big entertainment to be staged next week at the Tuesday Afternoon club, for the benefit of the fire victims.

INTRODUCING PLANTS

Scientists of the United States agricultural department are introducing plants on Laysan Island of the Hawaiian game preserve in an effort to restore vegetative conditions completely destroyed by rabbits.

Resolution Is Passed By Legion Auxiliary

Following action taken Monday night at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Glendale Legion post, Mrs. Helen E. McBryde and Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer have drawn up resoutions upon the sudden and tragic death of Clarence Edwards in the fire Saturday.
Mrs. McBryde and Mrs. Hyer were appointed members of the resolution committee and have submitted the following resolutions:
"Whereas, The Great Commander has seen fit to take from our midst our beloved citizen, Clarence Edwards, a son and soldier, one who served in time of peace as well as in time of war, and,
"Whereas, in the death of Clarence Edwards the American Legion Auxiliary and the city of Glendale have lost a worthy friend and comrade and an honorable citizen, one who died as he lived, serving others:
"Now, therefore, we, the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary, Glendale Post, No. 127, hereby tender the most heartfelt sympathy to the mother of our friend, who served as honorably in peace as in war, and pray that the Great Commander who has seen fit to remove him shall extend comfort and consolation to the bereaved.
"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the mother and that a copy be spread on the minute books of the American Legion Auxiliary and published in local papers.
"HELEN E. McBRYDE.
"NELLIE SNOW HYER."

Another Glendale artist to receive recognition was John W. Cotton of 1202 East Colorado street, who received honorable mention for his water color, "Market Corner in Bruges."
Among other entries is Walter Cheever's "Interior."
Theodore Modra is art director at the fair, and under his capable direction a splendid art section has been established.

Breen of Crescent City, Del Norte county.
The men who have been trailed for days are reported surrounded in a mine just north of the Humboldt county line. Southern Pacific detectives have arrived at Crescent City to assist in running down the fugitives.

Another joint session will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at which time the resolution will probably pass.

USED ANESTHETIC

CLUBWOMEN PLAN TO RAISE MONEY

Card Parties and Dances to Swell Building Fund, Winter's Program

The entertainment committee of the Woman's club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mark Collins to discuss ways and means of raising funds during the winter for the club's building fund.

The committee decided to have card parties and dances, alternately during the coming months, and as the community has enlarged greatly in the past year these evenings should be a financial and social success. Punch, sandwiches, cake and coffee will be served at the dance, on Friday night of this week. Mrs. Rose Nettleton and Mrs. Caroline Minford will have charge of a home-made candy booth.

Mrs. Mark Collins and Mrs. A. W. Brown will have charge of the coffee, sandwiches and cake table, while the punch bowl will be in the hands of Mrs. Dean Culbertson and Mrs. Mary B. Darrow. Mrs. Seymour Thomas is donating a cake which is to be raffled, and three other cakes will be reserved for this purpose.

The committee desire everyone to notice the date, Friday night, October 19. The auditorium had been previously engaged for Saturday night, therefore the club had to take the only night open at the present time. Every resident is cordially invited to come, and bring all their friends, the tickets being as usual, fifty cents each person.

Nurse Is Visitor

Mrs. C. O. Miller is entertaining as her house guest, her sister, Miss Adelaide Madsen from Minneapolis, Minn. Miss Madsen, who is a graduate nurse, served overseas with the Red Cross, being with the first Red Cross corps that went over. Mrs. Miller and Miss Madsen will spend Thursday at Huntingon Park, where they will be entertained by friends in Miss Madsen's honor.

Mrs. A. Harcourt, who is at present residing in Los Angeles, visted friends here yesterday. Mrs. Biggs entertained Mrs. Harcourt at dinner, and the remainder of the evening was spent in visiting the Angier family. Mrs. Harcourt will be remembered for her generous services given the community church, by forming an organized choir and training the voices.

Escapes In Quake

Word received here from Mrs. Belle Miller, former librarian, assures friends that her daughter, who is living in Japan, is quite unharmed. Mrs. Miller's daughter was spending the summer in the mountains, and though her home is in Tokio, it was out of the fire zone. She will not, however, be allowed to return to Tokio for some time, on account of food shortage.

Mrs. Miller sends greetings to all La Crescentians who may remember her.

Mrs. Viola Carpenter is visiting her son, A. W. Carpenter in San Francisco. Mr. Carpenter is an attorney in the bay city and will, no doubt, entertain his mother for three or four weeks.

Mr. Kolts has rented a house here, and moved up from Los Angeles this week. Mrs. Katz, who was a volunteer fire fighter in the recent fire, is suffering from a severe cold, as the result of exposure.

BURBANK

ROTARIANS HEAR INSURANCE MAN

Percy Garnett of San Francisco Assails Those Seeking Radical Legislation

Percy Garnett, representing the Pacific Coast Fire Underwriters Association, with headquarters in San Francisco, was the speaker at the Burbank Rotary Club Tuesday noon, and he assailed "those interests seeking radical legislation" as undermining the fundamentals of American government.

Mark Keppel, Los Angeles county superintendent of schools, was one specifically mentioned by Mr. Garnett for the efforts at the last legislature on the part of this political educator to establish a state insurance fund and thereby impair the credit of the long-established companies.

As an insurance expert, Mr. Garnett opined, Mr. Keppel was a mighty poor student of the facts in the case, as a resume of 85 per cent of the business done revealed to the underwriters.

Warns California Cities

A word of warning also was sounded to all California cities in making adequate arrangements for fire-fighting equipment. All departments in this state are undermanned, but particularly so is Los Angeles, in which great areas are absolutely unprotected.

"We figure a total loss every time a fire is reported in Los Angeles," commented Mr. Garnett, who shed new light on the Berkeley conflagration by saying their officials had been lax in equipping the fire department as well as laying two-inch water pipes in districts where six-inch mains were necessary for fire protection.

More Water, Men, Equipment

More men, more water and more equipment are absolutely essential in all California cities immediately or a holocaust equal to the San Francisco fire of 1906 will sweep one or more large towns, Mr. Garnett warned his hearers.

The Burbank Rotarians expect to attend the First Baptist church next Sunday night in Glendale, meeting at the Burbank city hall at 6:30.

A boys' night is being planned by the club to start a program of work in behalf of the younger generation.

Subway Boon to Burbank

Operation of cars to and from this city will be greatly expedited, according to prominent business men, if the application of the Pacific Electric Company to the state railroad commission, for construction of a subway system from Hill street, Los Angeles, to Glendale boulevard is granted.

Following is a late report on the subject, issued by the commission:

"Pacific Electric Railway Company has applied to the railroad commission for permission to construct and maintain a subway from Hill street between Fourth and Fifth streets in the city of Los Angeles to Glendale boulevard, crossing with its line of railroad at grade as an approach to said subway from Glendale boulevard, the intersection of First and Second streets and Glendale boulevard, Lucas street, the intersection of Toluca and Emerald streets, and the two intervening alleys, all in the city of Los Angeles. Petitioner states that it has acquired right of way for construction of said subway, with the exception of two lots, condemnation proceedings for which are set for trial in the superior court of Los Angeles county November 16, 1923, and has expended in acquiring said right of way the sum of $834,647.50. A franchise for the construction of the tunnel and line of railway has been granted by the city council of the city of Los Angeles."

So successful was the "Better Baby" contest of the recent Fall Festival that it is now planned to make the clinic permanent, according to Dr. C. E. Irving.

In the neighborhood of seventy-five babies were registered, states Dr. Irving. With registration went free examination of the infants, a service that was greatly appreciated by many mothers.

To this end all local doctors and dentists lent their aid. The babies were placed on the scales and weighed, then examined from tip to toe, the record of all conditions being set down on a card prepared for the purpose.

Following examination, recommendation to the mother in each case was made by Dr. Wilde and Dr. Beach, both experts on babies.

Favor Removal of L. A. Municipal Farm

Property owners in Los Angeles county who have been seeking the removal of the Municipal Farm from its present location near the Vine street entrance to Griffith park, have scored a victory in securing the recommendation of the Public Safety committee of the Los Angeles City Council that the farm be removed.

AGENT EXPLAINS NASH CO. POLICY

Manufacturer's Methods Revealed by Glendale Distributor

"The policy adopted by any firm is one of the vital factors influencing the prosperity or otherwise of that firm," said Donald C. Barbee, sales manager of the Nash Sales Company, Inc., 112 South Maryland street, Nash distributors, in a statement explaining his reasons for allying himself with the Nash organization when he decided to enter the automobile business in Glendale.

"In the east, where I lived for many years and where my connection with the steel business brought me into contact, on an intimate, personal basis, with C. W. Nash, head of the Nash Motors Company, I had abundant opportunity to study the characteristics of both the man and the car he was making, and when I came to know his policies, on which he has built one of the outstanding successes in the automotive industry, I decided that the Nash organization was one that was built on a solid foundation.

Shows Keen Judgment

"The Nash policy is one of progressive conservatism," Mr. Barbee says, "one that has shown the keenest judgment in balancing between undue conservatism and radical experimentation. Nash Motors Company keeps abreast of the day, but the firm does not experiment at the expense of its customers, installing some new idea on a car and waiting to 'see what will happen.' Nash never puts a car in the hands of his customers that is not tried and proven in every detail.

"Another Nash policy is to adhere to accepted body lines, and not to go chasing after every novelty that presents itself, thus forcing sales by persuading owners that their cars have become obsolete in a short period. No erratic departures from good taste are permitted, and its present designs are only superior through normal progress, which has culminated in the charm and beauty of the late Nash models.

Saves Customer Cost

"This policy has one advantage, in that it saves the scrapping of methods and equipment to make room for some new variation in mechanical or body work design, thus eliminating a lot of heavy additional costs, which must be borne by the owner.

"Nash cars," declares Mr. Barbee, "are built to last many years, and assure an equal pride of ownership to those who wish to drive their cars for many seasons."

Paving Proceedings Defective, Is Claim

Advice has reached official circles in Glendale that the Sycamore canyon paving proceedings have been found defective, by Arthur Ellis, Los Angeles, attorney for the Hauser Packing company, to whom the contract for the paving was awarded.

The specific point to which the attorney objects is said to be an error in the description of the improvement district.

Mayor Spencer Robinson stated this morning that the paving question doubtless will be taken up again at the next meeting of the City Council. In case Attorney Ellis' opinion is final and his clients refuse to proceed with the work, it will then be necessary for the council to pass a new resolution of intention, advertise and hear protests, and go through the same process as in the case of an entirely new district.

Paving of the Sycamore canyon road has been agitated by many people for the last ten years and the probability of further delay comes as a keen disappointment.

Car Burns In Spite Of Punctured Tank

Almost every great calamity either develops, or brings to light, a genius, an individual who seems to have been born and trained through life simply to be on hand at the proper time to perform a few minutes' work.

The Sycamore canyon fire was no exception, but the hero's name will be known only to intimate friends.

When a city official and a party of workmen were forced to abandon a truck in the thick of the fire, the possibility of salvaging the vehicle engaged the minds of all, once the party had reached safety.

As the flames licked near the truck an idea was born. If the gas tank could be drained the car would be saved. So the genius reasoned. Drawing his gun, he punctured the gas tank. While the device did not save the car, the agony was soon over.

The director of Glendale Community Players is Mrs. Nanno Woods, assisted by Robert Stevenson, art director. "Mrs. Wiggs" will be given on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3, in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

New Sensations Promised As Stokes Trial Continues

Demand Of Grand Jury Investigation Made by Untermeyer, Counsel for Wealthy Turfman's Wife

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Demand for a grand jury investigation of all witnesses who have so far testified in the divorce trial of William Earl Dodge Stokes, 73-year-old millionaire turfman, against his young wife, Helen Elwood Stokes, was made on District Attorney J. A. Banton, by Samuel Untermyer, chief of Mrs. Stokes' counsel today.

Untermyer, in making his request, produced a statement, signed by Joseph Ross, a Chicago Italian, in which it is charged various sums of money were paid to members of the Chicago underworld to appear as witnesses against Mrs. Stokes.

Maid Again on Stand

Ross' sister-in-law, Anna Francese, a former maid in the employ of Edgar T. Wallace, San Francisco oil man, the co-respondent in the case, was to be a witness again today.

The maid, on her direct testimony, told of seeing Mrs. Stokes in the Wallace "love nest" just off exclusive Fifth avenue, on a number of occasions. Her testimony was identical with that of other witnesses, who told of "fleeting glimpses" of a red haired woman, who visited Wallace's rooms during the period between 1914 and 1918.

Demands Jury Probe

Three witnesses so far, have admitted false statements on the stand. It was on these admissions Untermyer demanded a grand jury probe.

Charles Erbstein of Mrs. Stokes' counsel, cross-examined Mrs. Francese and tried to show that Stokes had paid her, Joe Ross and Lillian Francese, her sister-in-law, to testify at the trial. The witness denied it.

She said Stokes himself had asked her to testify before the trial in 1921, but that she was not called as a witness.

OXY COSMO CLUB LIKE WORLD TOUR

Meetings Follow Customs of Nationalities and Promote Friendship

The newly organized Cosmopolital club of Occidental college will hold the first social meeting of the year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pipal tonight. Just two weeks ago the club was founded by Professors George Day and Frederick Bird.

Edward Jones, prominent Oxy student and debater of fame, was chosen president of the group. Miss Louise Houston is the vice-president, Frank Nakamura the secretary, and E. Galarza, treasurer.

The purpose of this new organization at Occidental is to promote friendship between the foreign countries through the students. Already several prominent Southern California colleges and universities have Cosmopolitan clubs.

Czech to Preside

The meeting tonight will be known as Czecho-Slovakian evening. Joseph Rouch, a Czecho-Slovak and an active member of the club, will be chairman. The refreshments will follow those customary in that nation.

A splendid program is arranged which will be of interest to all the students. Professor Day, who has been in Russia as the American Y. M. C. A. international secretary for nine years, and at present is secretary of the foreign students' organization in America, will speak on the aims of the club. Professor Bird will tell about the president, F. G. Masaryk and Secretary of State Dr. Benes.

Rouck will address the gathering on the subject, "Why My Country is Grateful to America." Young Rouck was born near Prague. He is 21 and has been in the United States two years. He has decided to study and prepare for diplomatic service in his home country.

This past summer he spent at Yellowstone national park giving musical concerts and entertainments.

Frank Nakamura, secretary, is from Pasadena High school where he graduated with high marks. Nakamura has chosen for his life work the vocation of teacher in some Japanese Christian college. He was born in TottoriKen, Japan.

Another interesting member of the Cosmopolitan club is Luther Hoobyar. He is a transfer from Modesto Junior college. His nationality is Assyrian and he was born in Urumia, Persia. He expects to study for the ministry or possibly diplomatic service. Hoobyar is a most remarkable student. He is an orator, sings in the glee club, has taken active parts in operas and plays, and is an all round athlete, playing football and baseball.

Still another personality is Jose G. Desea, a Filipino, 22 years old, who is working his way through Occidental absolutely on his own initiative. He comes from the town of Tuguegarao in the province of Cayagan and attended the Cayagan High school. He is taking a general education course preparatory for teaching. Deseo is a debater, baseball player, and trackman also.

There are foreign students in the Cosmopolitan club representing over half of the countries in the world, it is said.

REALTORS RETURN FROM CONCLAVE

Glendale Delegation Tells Board This Noon About Sacramento Session

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

This morning the returned realtors from the Sacramento convention have been dividing their time three ways—checking up on missing members, swapping yarns and last, but by no means least, doing "business as usual."

The Glendale Realty Board met this noon at Jensen's Egyptian Village.

The tales they tell are as the Tales from Hoffman, with words by Peter Hanson; their adventures sound like the trials and tribulations of Moses and the Children of Israel, seeking the promised land, or perhaps their exploits might be likened to the wanderings of the Babes in the Woods.

Casualties Listed

The casualties seem to be limited to Miss Winnifred Traver, office secretary of the board, who arrived home suffering from a severe cold and is indisposed. But perhaps S. S. Gilhuly's car had a cold coming on, too; either that or it was up late the night it spent in San Francisco, for it certainly had an awful thirst coming down the line and occasionally it sneezed. Mrs. Gilhuly said it was hay fever.

William ("Smiling") Twining admits he had to tow one of the Glendale cars from San Lucas to San Ardo, Monday morning, but refuses to speak further.

Hayward Wears Hat

And here's a dead give-away. Not a word! E. P. ("Hatless") Hayward, executive secretary of the local board and one of Glendale's three directors on the state association, wore a hat in Sacramento. This statement can be proved and witnesses are ready to take the stand.

Cameron D. Thom, president of the Glendale Realty Board, and Charles B. Guthrie, past local president and new vice-president of the state association, are both back on the job, as is Peter Hanson, whose five-minute speech at Sacramento won second prize, by vote of the judges, and first by unanimous opinion of the Glendale delegation.

So far as can be learned at this time, the only members of the Glendale Realty Board still away are J. I. Wernette, newly elected director of the state association, visiting in Portland with his wife; Mrs. E. L. Foor, visiting with relatives in the north, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell and son Harold, touring the Yosemite.

Tuesday Afternoon Club Adds Nearly $200 to Hero Fund; Hears Interesting Speeches

Tuesday Afternoon club members and guests gathered yesterday at the clubhouse gave $187 as the club's contribution toward the fund being raised by The Glendale Evening News for the mother of Clarence Edwards, and the wife and children of J. W. McGahan, Glendalians, who lost their lives Saturday while fighting the fires that raged in the north hills.

This contribution, made by checks, pledges and cash, was made during the afternoon meeting hour and stands as an expression of Tuesday Afternoon Club interest and participation in local relief activity. The total amount of $187 was announced by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, as the final event of the afternoon, and with the announcement she expressed sincere belief that the $200 mark would be well passed before the final sum is turned over to the relief fund.

From Quake Zone

A noon luncheon preceded the club meeting and program yesterday and the women entertained as honored guests and speakers Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, vice-president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman at club extension work; Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, director of education for the International Anti-narcotic organization, and Mrs. C. D. Neill, who with her sister, Mrs. A. E. Service, arrived in California recently from their home in Rangoon, Burma, India, and were in Yokohama two days after the earthquake tragedy.

The luncheon tables were most attractively arranged and over 200 club members and guests were served.

Captain Hobson was the first speaker introduced. He gave an eloquent plea for support in the fight against narcotics, prefacing his brief talk with the statement: "The human race is living in an environment of perils. It is our duty to save the young people of the land."

Continuing, he outlined the aims and plans of the anti-narcotic organization and ended with a plea to the clubwomen to join in the world-wide fight.

Interesting Talks

Mrs. Lorbeer is particularly interested in the organization of junior auxiliaries to the clubs in the Los Angeles district, and from a general talk on the national, state and district club affairs she brought the subject of the junior work to her hearers. Later she spoke briefly at the club meeting in the auditorium.

Mrs. Neill's short recitation of the Japanese tragedy was most interesting. She and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Service, were en route on the steamship President Jefferson to the United States. The two women are sisters of Mrs. H. S. Robinson of 720 North Central avenue, Glendale, a member of the club.

"We arrived in the Yokohama harbor the Monday afternoon following the earthquake and fire," said Mrs. Neill. "The fire was still raging and out boat received refugees. They had all lost relatives or friends. It was a pitiful sight, all of them showing the terrible experience they had gone through. Women in men's clothes, all of them scantily clad and all of them injured and suffering from shock.

Gave Clothing

"We took one lot to Kobe for medical care and returned to Yokohama to bring another group on to the United States. We

Announcement was made in Glendale last evening by H. S. Wright, assistant superintendent of the Sam Seelig Company, that this great grocery concern will establish two additional stores in this city as soon as arrangements can be made.

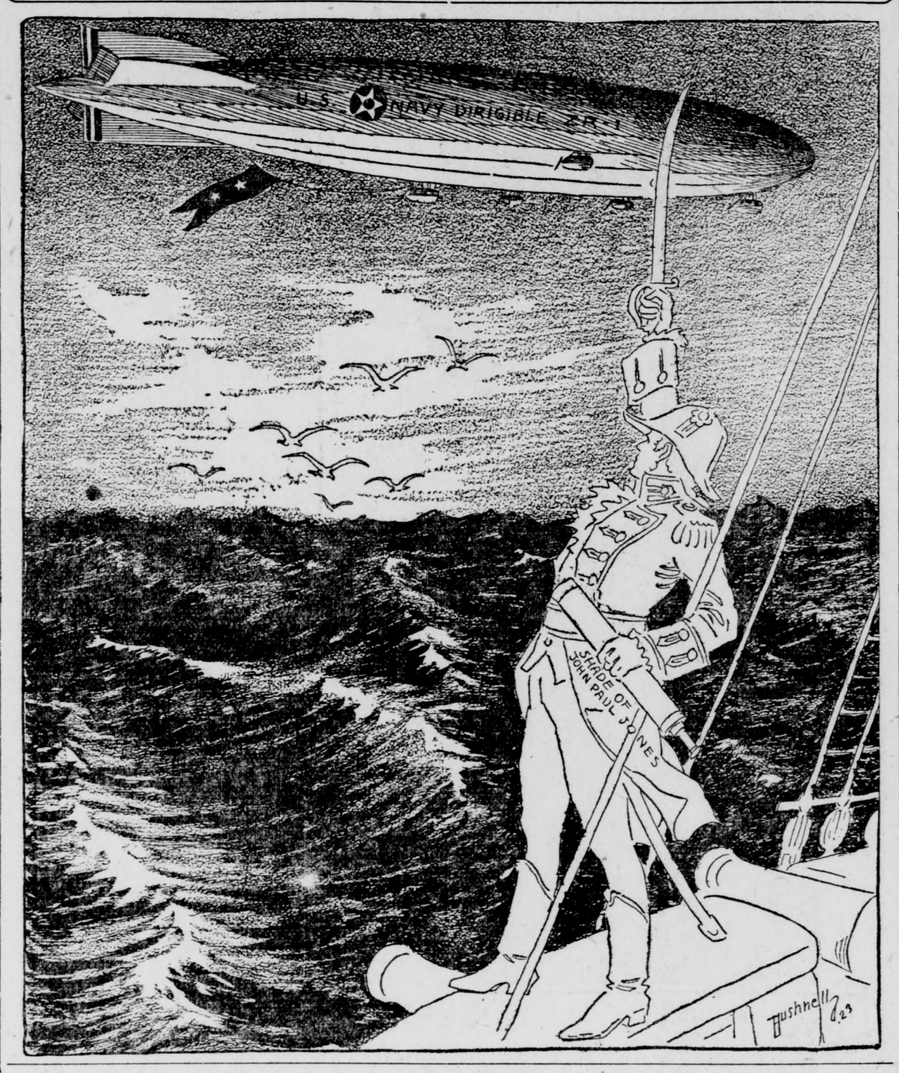
One of the new stores will be located in North Glendale at Pacific avenue and Gilbert, while the other will be at Seneca avenue and Glendale boulevard.

The company has arranged for building sites and has already let contracts for the buildings, which will be rushed to completion.

These new establishments will give the Sam Seelig Company four stores in Glendale. A total of 182 are being operated in Southern California, making this the largest chain in this half of the state.

The stores are regular public markets, handling fruits, vegetables, groceries and meats.

SOME CHANGE IN NAVAL HISTORY SINCE J. PAUL JONES' TIME



CHRIST'S RETURN, EDMONDS' THEME

Saviour's Second Coming Means End of Death, Sorrow, Says Pastor

Rev. W. E. Edmonds delivered a powerful sermon on "Bringing Back the King," to a large congregation at the Presbyterian services held in the Glendale Theatre Sunday morning. His text was from II Samuel, 19:10.

He told his hearers that no government will be lasting except the Kingdom which will be set up by the King of Kings. The Lord Jesus Christ is in exile today. He was rejected by His own people. God raised Him from the dead, and He sent forth His disciples as ambassadors. Through These He has builded up a spiritual kingdom. Jesus Christ announced to the world that He was coming again, personally, to assume the throne of David and reign forever as the King of Kings.

I. Who is this King? The documents are on file, clear and unmistakably plain, and can be read in the geneaological tables in Matthew and Luke. He is the King of Israel, but through riches of grace there is neither Jew nor Gentile. He is the King of all the saints. Jesus Christ is the only living heir to David's throne. The angel said to Mary: "He shall sit upon the throne of His father David and of His kingdom there shall be no end." There is no question about His rights to rule and reign.

II. Why should we want to bring back the King? Because of the failures of all earthly kings, and because the world continues to reject Jesus Christ, the King of Kings. We want Him to come back because His coming will bring an end to death, sorrow, sin and Satan.

III. How may we bring Him back? To the winds with human schedules, time tables and the like. God lives in eternity. A thousand years is as a day with Him. He says: "Be ye also ready—behold, I come quickly." We may help to bring Him back by longing, desiring and praying that the King of Glory shall come quickly; by our consecration, daily walk, and definite purpose in soul winning.

Bottled Malted Milk Brought Out by S. W. Brown Co. Sold Over Country

"Comalt," a new beverage "brought out" by residents of Glendale, is well on the road to national popularity, in the opinion of William Roslington, president of the S. W. Brown Company, proprietors of the Green Hill Bottling Works, where the new drink originated.

Telegrams flooded the company's office yesterday as a result of activities of representatives who are maintaining a booth this week at Providence, R. I., where the National Bottlers' Exposition is in session.

One telegram which threw the Brown company force into a flurry of enthusiasm came from the representatives in Providence, H. C. Craft and D. G. MacKennon, in which they declared "Comalt" had instantly aroused widespread interest among exposition visitors.

Bottled Malted Milk

"Comalt" is chocolate malted milk bottled. Its sponsors announce they have perfected and patented a process whereby they will manufacture, in their Glendale plant, a syrup which will be used as the base for the drink, and which they will ship to all parts of the country. Bottling establishments desirous of handling the beverage in their various communities will be required to purchase from the local institution a manufacturer's franchise and such quantities of the syrup as they require from time to time.

Mr. Roslington states that within a short time franchises will be awarded for the whole of California, and he expects to see "Comalt" on sale in the most remote regions very soon. Its principal virtue, he says, lies in its economy and the elimination of the work of the dispenser at the fountain.

Movie Star's Father Faces Larceny Charge

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Charles Appel, father of Lila Lee, motion picture actress, was charged with larceny by bailee in an indictment voted late yesterday.

At the same time Charles S. Schick, vice-president of the Chicago Public Library board, announced a resolution would be introduced next Monday to expel Appel from the board membership. Appel is said to be in California with his daughter.

The indictment resulted from charges by E. Rogers, an investment broker, that he was unable to get back $10,000 in bonds entrusted to Appel.

Plan to Renew Debt Funding Negotiations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The American debt funding commission has made new overtures to all debtor nations for a resumption of refunding negotiations, it was announced yesterday afternoon by Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, a member of the commission, during a visit to the White House. Smoot declared replies were expected from the debtor nations in time for a resumption of negotiations in December.

Long Beach Officers Held On $1000 Bond

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Four Long Beach policemen, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Velma Chambers, 15, and Clara Shipp, 17, were arraigned yesterday before Judge Hahn and bail fixed at $1,000 each, with one exception. Their hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Pastor Will Repeat Two Sunday Talks

The officials and congregation of the Broadway Methodist church were much pleased at the attendance Sunday at the four services. The children's departments of the Sunday school exceeded all previous records. At the Epworth League services, led by George F. Newman, were present more than the average number. At this service Mrs. Newman and Miss Pauline Marsh sang a duet.

Both morning and evening sermons were by the pastor, Rev. L. J. Millikan, and were so eloquent and forceful he has been requested to preach them again at some future date. The morning theme was "Preparing for the Conflict," and at night the speaker discussed "The Causes for Peter's Receding." A thirty-minute song service preceded the evening sermon, and was led by Will J. Myers, who also sang solos at both services.

Next Sunday will close the conference year, but the congregation expects Rev. Millikan's return next year.

Glendale Will Organize Forest Protective Force To Battle Fire Menace

The danger of a repetition of last Saturday's fire, that threatened to wipe out a large part of Glendale before it was finally subdued, is to be minimized in future by the organization of a fire-fighting organization whose duty it will be to take charge and fight any similar outbreaks until the federal, state and county forest officials can get their crews into action, according to a decision reached by the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their meeting last night.

The action of the board followed an address by C. G. Dunwoody, of the Angeles Forest Protective Association, which embraces practically every town and city from the Arroyo Seco to Lytle Creek, and which has been formed solely for the purpose of protecting the watershed supplying Pasadena and the towns in that area with water.

Tells of Operation

After pointing out the need for an organized fire-fighting body in Glendale and adjacent cities, and for absolute co-ordination between every unit of the organization, Mr. Dunwoody detailed the system under which the Angeles Forest Protective Association works.

This organization, he declared, came into existence as a result of a fire last year on Mount Lowe. Following that fire, he said, six men were chosen to secure recruits among their friends, for a fire-fighting organization. The cooperation of the United States forest service assured them of the services of an instructor, who conducts maneuvers at which the members are familiarized with the latest ideas in fighting forest fires and are taught to familiarize themselves with the region in which they operate.

The personnel of the organization consists of a supervisor, a supply man, a liason office with whom are allied the pick of the Boy Scouts as messengers, a packer in charge of a pack train of burros to carry food to the fire fighters, twelve trained foremen at the head of gangs of ten men, a transportation department to furnish shoes and overalls to the men on the firing line, and the chief of police, whose duty it is to handle the traffic on the roads leading to the scene of the fires.

Work for Higher Pay

Plans are now under way, Mr. Dnwoody stated, to secure the passage of legislation that would permit fire fighters to draw a greater compensation than the $3.50 a day they are allowed now, as many of them will suffer greater loss than that through having their clothes burned off.

"When you organize your fire-fighting unit," he urged, "get the young fellows who can stand the gaff of a long, hard fight in these hills, and pick the men who don't know anything about fighting fires. The government men who will be detailed to help and teach you will soon show you the best methods of overcoming forest and brush fires."

L. T. Rowley stressed the importance of keeping the watershed supplying this city covered with vegetation, in reporting on a fire protection meeting that he attended recently at Covina, where the foothill residents are paying for patrols to protect their property.

Failure to carry through the plan favored by the City Council, to establish a fire station at Sparr Heights, was responsible, to some degree, for the spread of Saturday's fire, according to City Manager W. H. Reeves, who claimed that a squad of trained firemen could have done much to localize the fire that started at Montrose.

The inadequacy of the local fire department to fight forest and brush fires, and at the same time to afford protection to the city itself, was pointed out by Director P. J. Hayselden.

The Chamber of Commerce will appoint a committee of five to organize Glendale's fire-fighting unit along the lines suggested by Mr. Dunwoody, who has promised to render every assistance in the power of his organization to get it into shape for active work at the earliest possible moment.

G. L. Woodford Overturns Car As It Starts Sliding Into Crystal Lake

Quick thinking and equally quick action save the entire G. L. Woodford family, 336 Loraine street, North Glendale, from death by drowning Sunday when the car in which they were riding started to back down a steep grade, threatening to end its course in Crystal Lake.

Mr. Woodford and his fmily were looking over some real estate near Crystal Lake, when, in climbing a grade, the engine failed and the car started to roll down hill. Mr. Woodford, to avoid running into the lake, swung the wheel sharply, capsizing the car and throwing its six occupants in all directions.

Mrs. Woodford, holding the year-old baby, Beatrice, in her arms, was painfully hurt on the head and shoulders, and the other children, Betty Jane, 5; Phyllis Ann, 3, and George, Jr., 2, were bruised and shaken. George, Jr., was also cut on the left arm.

The family was treated by Police Surgeon Dunsmoor at the Los Angeles receiving hospital.

TODAY—Inflated Money and "White Lies." Altered Standard of Veracity.

By MINOTT SAUNDERS
For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 16. — "White lies" and purple fraud are as common under the extenuating circumstances of economic abnormality in Europe as under prohibition in America. Men and women who, in character and practice, have held themselves above deception of any description, now scorn the letter of the law and wink at the truth. Critics of prohibition who declare it encourages falsehood and illegal practices can learn in Europe today that human nature is about the same the world over.

It is practically impossible to travel in Central and Eastern Europe without telling lies. Here is where foreigners are forced to stoop to conduct that is offensive to them, but their only alternative is to quit traveling.

In countries where the currency is inflated there is a law stipulating the maximum amount of money that may be taken out of the country. This amount is always so ridiculously low that it leaves a traveler penniless at his destination.

You are not allowed to take more than four or five dollars out of Germany. If you abide by the law in crossing the Austrian frontier and have dinner on the train you will scarcely have enough money to pay for a taxi to your hotel in Vienna. If you travel from Vienna to Budapest through Czecho-Slovakia you will arrive "broke." You are not allowed to take from Hungary anywhere near as much money as your ticket costs you, no matter if you are only going to the nearest big city beyond the border.

Under these laws money means not only the currency of the country you are leaving, but dollars, pounds, francs, etc., also travelers' checks and negotiable securities.

It simply cannot be done. If you are traveling for pleasure your entire tour will be ruined if you obey the law. If you have business to transact you must either cancel the business or be dishonest. Nationalistic feeling is so intense and national rights so jealously guarded that the resultant system is a joke.

And so everybody treats it as a joke. It is a common sight at frontiers to see respectable men and women who live Christian lives look an official in the eyes and tell him they have only so much money. Of course it is impossible to search everybody, and so on most frontiers officials pick on one or two and make of them horrible examples. The penalties are expensive, according to how much money is found.

Frontier officials probably know very well that every time they ask the question they do not get the truth, so it is policy to be courteous to them and behave so that you may not arouse their disfavor. Meekness and humbleness of the great come out at frontier inspections.

These inspectors also know all the old tricks of deception, so that brilliant ideas of concealing money in hatbands and stockings do not work out if you are one of the proscribed. A prominent Englishman recently sewed several hundred pounds in notes inside his coat lining, but he was denounced when, at the frontier, his daughter put her arm around his waist. He crinkled, and the train went on without him. At Harchegg, on the Austrian frontier, an American salesman was questioned about his silk samples, and when he was not very polite in replying he was taken into a private room and searched for money. His fellow-passengers did not see him again.

Bribery and smuggling and tax evasion are other brands of deception universally indulged in.

All this fraud and dishonesty are so widely understood and indulged in by the best people that it is looked upon as a legitimate game. The individual assumes it is fair to trick the state if the state has imposed upon him legislation which he regards as absurd.

And the spirit of these practices is about the same that has brought upon America the accusation of corruption under prohibition.

MAY WED LATE HUSBAND'S SON

George Gould's Widow To Marry Again

Mrs. Gorge J. Gould, Sr., and George J. Gould, Jr. It is rumored they are to be married

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Rumor and truth seem to have one thing in common. Crushed to earth, they will rise again.

And one of the busiest little Rising Rumors we have is the one that announces that Mrs. George J. Gould Sr., young and beautiful widow of the late financier, will marry again—and that her next mate will be George J. Gould Jr., son of her late husband.

This time Dame Rumor points to the fact that Mrs. Gould has sailed for Europe without her children as grounds for believing that the marriage is near. Mrs. Gould is known to have decided views against leaving one's children in the care of others. They have been with her constantly in her travels, to date. Hence, her move in leaving the children at her Manursing Island home in charge of competent governesses is pointed at as significant.

Mrs. Gould, despite the fact that George Sr. wooed and won her, is younger than her late husband's son by a few years at least. She was Guenevere Sinclair. She is an Englishwoman and before her marriage appeared on the stage in New York.

Gould Jr. has been married before. His recently divorced wife and their two children are living in Paris.

The one thing that may delay the marriage of Mrs. Gould and her stepson is the litigation, now on, over the estate left by Gould Sr., in which he left the bulk of his riches to Mrs. Gould.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LITTLE TENT

Splish, splash! Down came the rain in Woodland where the animal boys and girls lived.

"Oh, read!" sighed Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, "I can't take my dollie for a ride when it rains, for she'll catch cold in her shoe button eyes."

"Oh, dear!" sighed Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, "when it rains I can't fly my kite, for the water would soak off all the paper."

"Oh, dear!" sighed Kittie Kat, the pussy girl, "now I can't go to the movies, for my tail will get all wet in the rain."

But Toodle and Noodle Flat Tail, the beaver boys, didn't mind the rain at all, for they loved water. So they swam about, flipping and flopping their broad flat tails.

Pretty soon, as Toodle and Noodle were swimming across the duck pond, they saw, on the far side, Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, under a big umbrella, off which the rain drops were splashing.

"Whoo-oo, Toodle. Whoo'oo, Noodle," called Baby Bunty from the bank of the duck pond.

"What's the matter?" asked Toodle and Noodle, as they swam close to the little rabbit girl.

"I want to go to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow," said Bunty, "but it is raining so hard I'm afraid I'll never get there."

"We'll help you," kindly offered Toodle. "We'll put you in a box boat and pull you to the other side of the duck pond, and then you can easily go to Uncle Wiggily's."

Soon the beaver boys found a box for a boat. Baby Bunty sat in it, holding her umbrella over her head to keep off the rain. Toodle and Noodle swam on ahead, pulling the box boat behind them, and soon they were at the other side of the duck pond. From there it wasn't far, to the hollow stump bungalow.

"Why, Baby Bunty. How ever did you get out with all this rain?" asked the bunny gentleman, as he let in the little rabbit girl.

"I came under my umbrella like a little tent," answered Bunty, "and Toodle and Noodle pulled me across the duck pond in a box boat."

"That was kind of them," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "And now you had better go in the kitchen and Nurse Jane will give you a glass of warm milk to keep you from catching cold. And you'd better take off your shoes, for your feet are wet."

Uncle Wiggily went on reading his book, trying to learn new ways of twinkling his pink nose, and pretty soon Baby Bunty, with dry feet, came creeping into the room where the bunny gentleman sat.

"Uncle Wiggily," said Baby Bunty, "I came over to play with you, but you don't play—you just read a book all the while!"

"Ah, bless your little ears!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. "I must play with you a bit, I suppose. What shall we do?"

"Let's make a little tent and have a play party in it," said Bunty.

"How can I make a tent inside my bungalow?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Make it out of my umbrella," said Bunty. "Open the umbrella and put it on the floor and we can crawl in it and play party. That will be lots of fun!"

"All right!" laughed the bunny gentleman. So he opened the umbrella, which was nearly dry by this time, and put it on the floor in the dining room near the table.

But when both he and Baby Bunty tried to get inside the little umbrella tent, there wasn't room.

"We must have a bigger tent," said Bunty. "I know how to make it. Take the table cloth, Uncle Wiggily, and put it over the umbrella. That will make a fine tent."

So the rabbit gentleman did this, and with the table cloth on top of the umbrella, and hanging down the sides, the little tent was big enough for both of them.

"But now we must have something to eat for the play party," said Bunty. "I know what you can do. Uncle Wiggily. Please go ask Nurse Jane for some cake—cake is fine for play parties in a little tent. Oh, I'm having a lovely time!" she cried.

"Well," sighed Uncle Wiggily, "I'm glad of that, Bunty." So he went to the kitchen and got some cake from Nurse Jane, and hopped back into the tent with it so Bunty could have a play party. And, all of a sudden, just as they were eating the cake, all of a sudden there was a popping sound and the table cloth and umbrella tent fell down on the heads of Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty.

"Help! Help!" shouted Uncle Wiggily.

"My goodness! What in the world has happened?" gasped Nurse Jane. The muskrat lady housekeeper ran into the dining room. There was no Fox there and no Wolf. Nurse Jane pulled the umbrella and table cloth up off Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty.

Baby Bunty sat in the boat.

"What happened?" asked Mr. Long ears. "Did the Skillery Scallery Alligator try to nibble my ears?"

"Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane. "The umbrella just snapped shut, that's all. I guess you didn't put it up right."

"Ho! Ho! Is that all?" laughed Baby Bunty. "Come on, play little tent some more, Uncle Wiggily!" And they did, but this time the umbrella didn't go shut.

So they had lots of fun, and if the rubber boots don't walk off by themselves and go to the movies, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the trunk.

Nothing goes out of style quicker than a vacuum cleaner unless it is a silk hat or an automobile. The first one we had worked with a handle like a suction pump and a person with magnificent physique and in good training could go over the floor of a small room in one day without breaking his back. You held the cleaner with one hand and pulled with the other, and coaxing the microbes out of a six-by-eight rug was a process which occupied an entire day.

Then they got the electric vacuum cleaners. We didn't have any electric lights in the house at that time, but had them put in just so we could operate an electric vacuum cleaner. Nobody in the world was going to have anything on us in the way of cleaners.

After filling the cellar, the barn and the garage with vacuum cleaners that were a week or two behind the times, we swore off, and we didn't buy a vacuum cleaner for two months.

Yesterday a man came along with a new vacuum cleaner that would pull the tacks out of a carpet or would yank the paper off the wall. It would pull a mustard plaster off from a man's back. When placed at one end of the room it would tear out a plate glass window in the other end of the room. It cleaned up all of the known microbes and, as it was working only half capacity while so doing, they had invented three or four thousand microbes that had never been heard of before, just to keep the vacuum cleaner busy. In other words, when they began working the new cleaner it had pulled in microbes that the scientists had never had the nerve to discover, so tremendous was its strength.

We put a mortgage on the house and bought one.

There's something wrong with a custom that tells gentlemen they must cover their skins with four layers of evening clothes in August, and tells ladies they must not in January.

Timely Views on World Topics

COL. GEORGE R. HARVEY

The recent announcement by the state department that Col. George B. Harvey would resign his post as ambassador to England January 1 is taken by politicians as an indication that he wants to be footloose and care-free to handle President Coolidge's campaign next year if Coolidge becomes a candidate. Harvey is expected to play a prominent part in the Republican campaign no matter how the party finally lines up.

COL. GEO. HARVEY.

Harvey was born at Peacham, Vt., in 1864, and was educated at its academy. When he was eighteen years old he went to work as a reporter on the Springfield Republican and three years later joined the staff of the New York World and was its managing editor from 1890 to 1891.

Nine years later he purchased the North American Review, and the same year became head of the publishing house of Harper & Brothers. Holding the editorship of Harper's Weekly and the North American Review at the same time he became known for his political writings during the years between 1900 and 1912, and when Woodrow Wilson was proposed as the Democratic nominee for president at Baltimore in 1912, Harvey gave to him his enthusiastic support, having been Wilson's foremost advocate for several years.

Before the election a break occurred between them when Wilson informed Harvey that his support had become more of an embarrassment than a help. Soon after this Harvey sold Harper's Weekly to Norman Hapgood and founded Harvey's Weekly.

In the campaign of 1916 he gave his support to Charles E. Hughes, and in the last campaign threw his whole influence into the scale for Harding.

Colonel Harvey is known as a public speaker and in addition to a large editorial output through more than twenty-five years has written a number of books. Between severing his connection with the world and assuming editorship of the North American Review he was active in the management of a number of traction companies.

In 1883 he was appointed aide de camp with the rank of colonel on the staff of Governor Green of New Jersey. Three institutions, Erskine college and the Universities of Nebraska and Vermont, have honored Colonel Harvey with the degree of LL.D.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Dr. Lulu:

"Help! Horrors! Look at the scales! Around 142 pounds and I have to stretch to reach five feet! Ye gods, where's that reducing pamphlet And friend hubby only fifty pounds overweight, too! And "Sockemine," who is two and one-half months old, says to tell you hello and to please send her the pamphlet (if there is one) on bottle baby's diet, as she has a mamma who has to undergo an operation as soon as she can be built up strong enough.

"Can a woman ever become as strong as she was once who has fallen of the womb and rectum, and all of the other organs in the pelvic cavity relaxed and out of position, caused from too frequent child-bearing, and the lower wall being torn away?—M."

M.: The pamphlet has been sent if you enclosed 4 cents in stamps and a stamped envelope, fully addressed—name, city, state, street and number. Did you do that? You and hubby both are somewhat overweight—you about thirty-five and friend hubby fifty—so you certainly need it. You especially need it if you are going to undergo an operation, because fat tissue does not heal so readily.

Yes, in the hands of a skillful surgeon, your relaxed lower wall can be mended so that the organs will stay in place and you will probably regain your health. I imagine that while you were carrying your baby you ate so much that you and the baby both became overfat, and that was probably the reason for your present bad condition. So many mothers do that. A gain of fifteen to twenty pounds while carrying the baby is all that should be allowed for, unless the mother is underweight. An excessive gain not only makes labor more difficult and dangerous but may bring on convulsions of pregnancy known as eclampsia.

Your baby who is bottle-fed should be under the care of a physician, and we have a list of modern books on the subject which will help you carry out your doctor's orders. You may have them by sending a SELF-ADDRESSED, stamped envelope.

S. K.: No. Exercising the arms and hands would not be apt to enlarge the veins. In cases of acidity or fermentation in the stomach, if there is no ulceration, there is something wrong in your diet, probably, which delays stomach digestion. Are you eating too much white bread, sugar and pastries, etc.? Are you over-eating and bolting your food?

Stewed fruit has the same caloric value as the fresh fruit unless sugar is added; then the amount of sugar would have to be computed. The mineral and carbohydrate (starch and sugar) value is not affected, but the vitamins might be lost. The caloric value of a large apple or pear or orange is 100 calories; three or four moderate size plums, prunes or apricots, 100 calories.

The fat of bacon is a very easily digested fat, and that is why bacon is advised sometimes when other fats are not well borne. Three or four thin half slices, fairly crisp, would be 100 calories. Fried ham is not so digestible for the reason that any fried food is not so digestible, because of the excess fat which may cling to it and because in frying some of the fat may be changed to fatty acids.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

A PARIS INSPIRATION

A blouse of indescribable smartness is here featured with a skirt that is equally smart. Charmeen, the new twill with broadcloth finish. Poiret twill, cashmere or flannel may be used to develop the skirt, satin or crepe de chine being used for the blouse. Paris still clings to monogrammed blouses, and the design here is artistic in its simplicity. The spirt is laid in plaits at the sides and attached to a long-waisted camisole. Medium size requires 2⅛ yards 40-, 44- or 54-inch material for the skirt and ¾ yard lining for the camisole, and 2¼ yards satin for the blouse.

Pictorial Review Blouse No. 1748. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Monogram 521. Perforated pattern any letter, three-inch size, 60 cents. Skirt No. 1749. Sizes, 37 to 51 inches hip. Price, 35 cents.

JUST FROM PARIS

This is really a brilliant little frock, in coloring as well as in the cleverness of its design. It is fashioned of apricot crepe de chine with polka dots of old blue. The skirt may be trimmed with one or two flounces, and the blouse extends far enough below the waist line to form a tunic flounce. The collar and trimming band are of plain apricot satin, and the belt is made of the same material. Medium size requires 5⅛ yards 36-inch crepe, with ¾ yard of plain silk for trimming.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1770. Sizes 34 to 46 inches bust Price, 45 cents.

DESIGN PIPE

A pipe has been designed to carry the exhaust gases above the highest point on an automobile to prevent them affecting other motorists or pedestrians.

Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

WHEN THE HAIR SPLITS

Many women are distressed when their hair, which has always been perfectly healthy, suddenly begins to show split and ragged ends. This happens often at the end of the summer, when the hair has been too much exposed to burning sun, and when the oil has dried out of it.

There is no cause for immediate worry; split hair is a symptom rather than a bad trouble. But it should be treated at once and never allowed to become a trouble. First, take thin strands of hair and either plait or roll them very tightly (rolling is quickest). Rub the hand backwards over the strand to bring up all the ends. Then clip or singe off all these outstanding hairs, and take off three inches or so from the very bottom of the strand, where most of the hairs end.

I shouldn't advise you to do the singeing yourself—there's always the danger of setting fire to the hair. But there's none if you have a friend use a small candle, such as is put on Xmas trees, or a wax taper. While you hold the strand, the flame can be slipped along it, with the other hand following it up to catch any flame that looks too ambitious. This makes it sound like a dangerous proceeding, which it isn't at all. Clipping takes longer. I never allow hairdressing shops to clip, because they charge more. Some claim singeing hurts the hair, but I don't agree. In any case, have the clipping or singeing repeated every six weeks. There's a superstition about doing it when the moon's full; but that's merely to keep a time check on it, so you won't neglect it too long. As burnt or stubby ends aren't pleasant, always singe or clip just before a shampoo.

Even when no cracked or broken ends show, the hair should be so treated every few months.

Reta, E. V. E.: I will be glad to mail the bust formula if you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope requesting it.

Gloria: I am sorry that you did not send the stamped, self-addressed envelope as you suggested, as there is not space to give you all the information you wish. Write again. In the meantime bleach the fine hair with peroxide, extracting the coarser ones with blunt tweezers. Depilatories will always leave the skin as you mentioned, much the same as in shaving.

Singe or clip the hair every six weeks.

Mrs. S. R. D.: Any artificial coating on the hair clogs the hair shaft, interfering with healthy functioning.

Tomorrow—Blackheads.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

The winter or hubbard squash is with us again. The young housekeeper must, by all means, learn to cook it deliciously. Here are some of the best ways:

Baked Hubbard Squash—Wash and scrub the outside, then cut the squash in halves, crosswise (often the skin is so tough that a small hammer helps to break it) and scrape out the seeds and pulp. Now place these pieces in a pan containing a little hot water and bake in a good oven till soft—about an hour or an hour and a half. Remove from oven and scrape the soft, yellow squash from the shell; measure it, and for each cupful add one tablespoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper. Mix well and serve hot. If liked sweet, a little brown sugar may be added.

Steamed Hubbard Squash—Cut hubbard squash in pieces of convenient size to fit into a steamer top or into a large sieve or colander. Place over boiling water and let cook in the steam until tender—about an hour. Then scrape the pulp from the hard shell, put it through a wide-meshed sieve and season to taste with butter, salt, pepper and a trace of brown sugar. Serve hot.

Squash Pudding—To one and one-half cups of cooked squash which has been put through a sieve, add one and one-half cups of sweet cold milk, one-third cup of granulated sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, grated rind of half a lemon, and two slightly beaten eggs. Turn this mixture into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a moderate oven till thickened like custard—about one hour, possibly a little longer. Chill in the ice box before serving.

Squash Pie—To two cups of well-mashed cooked squash add one-fourth teaspoon of ground ginger, one teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of ground cinnamon, and mix well. Then add two eggs, three cups of scalded sweet milk and one cup of granulated sugar. Pour into a deep pie plate which is lined with uncooked pastry and bake for forty minutes in a moderate oven, having the oven a little hotter at the start (for five or ten minutes) to set the crust.

(Note: Any pie which contains egg, such as squash, pumpkin or custard, should be started in a quick oven till the filling heats through, then the oven temperature should be reduced—otherwise the filling may boil, thereby causing it to "whey." Such a pie is done when a silver knife, inserted in the center of the filling, will come out clean. It generally takes about forty minutes, in all, to reach this stage.)

Tomorrow—The New House Furnishings.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of sixteen and deeply in love with a boy of twenty. I met him about eight months ago and he came to see me every night. About two months ago we moved twelve miles away from him. He doesn't come to see me as often as I think he should. He comes about once every two weeks.

I have been out with him several times to ride and find him a nice fellow. I often write to him but seldom get an answer. When he comes to see me I ask him why he doesn't write to me. He says that he can't think of anything to write. I don't think that could hinder him.

When he comes to see me he hates to leave and tells me he loves no on else. During my absence he hasn't gone with any one, except that he took one girl to the movies about two weeks ago. He said she asked him to take her. He said that he hated to refuse a girl but would never take her again.

My mother doesn't like to have me go with him, but it breaks my heart to give him up. Would you advise me to keep going with him.

C. N.

If the young man has a way to see you more often than once in two weeks, you have reason to think his interest in you is not as keen as it was. The fact that he rarely writes would also indicate that there is something lacking in his love for you. My advice is to stop showing so much interest in him. Do not write to him any oftener than he writes to you. Also make no objection to his going with other girls, but if he continues to go with them, judge accordingly and make up your mind that he does not care enough for you to go far to see you.

Since your mother objects to the young man, I would advise you to weigh carefully her objections. You are too young to continue a friendship which your mother has good reason to oppose.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When introducing any one, what is the proper way? What should be said when being introduced?

How can I entertain my boy friends when they call? One friend is Catholic and I do not know whether he plays cards or not and I haven't the nerve to ask him.

Does it hurt the eyes to put vaseline on the eyelashes? I put some on and it made my eyes blurry but when I rubbed it off they were all right again. Would it not make the eyelashes large and thicker? Cutting doesn't seem to do much good. THANKS.

Present the man to the woman, unless the man is a minister or celebrity. When presenting a young woman and an older woman present the younger one to the older. "Mrs. Hill, I want you to meet Mrs. Thomas." Or "Mrs Hill I want you to meet Miss Brown.' In acknowledging an introduction, simply repeat the person's name. If you have been presented to Mrs. Hill, acknowledge the introduction with a slight bow and the words, "Mrs. Hill."

There are games which are interesting to grown up people which do not involve cards. I would advise you to go to a toy store and ask for suggestions. The games sold at such a place are not for children entirely. You might also make candy. It is better, however, to depend on interesting conversation than to look for forms of amusement to hold your friends.

Vaseline should be used with great care when it is put on the eyelashes. I would advise you to apply it with a toothpick in very small quantities so that none of it will get into the eyes. Twice a week is often enough for an application, because if it is put on too freely the skin around the eyes will look greasy even after the vaseline has been wiped off.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, daughter of Nicholas Burray Butler, president of Columbia university, is one of the youngest leaders holding office in the Republican party. She was recently appointed chairman of the woman's executive committee of the New York republican state committee.

Miss Butler also took the position of first vice-chairman with the reorganized Republican state committee under the equal representation policy adopted some time ago. Under each position the work will be the same—organizing the women behind Republican standard bearers.

COOK BOOK WITH EACH MARRIAGE LICENSE

Holding to the theory that good biscuits, or even fairly good biscuits, have a great deal to do with the success or failure of a marriage venture, the county clerk of Clarksburg, West Virginia, will issue a cook book for the bride along with each marriage license.

BIG POLITICAL CONVENTION

Women representing every state will meet in a great political convention in Washington December 1, 2 and 3, when the National Woman's party will concentrate its efforts on passage through the senate of the proposed equal rights amendment to the constitution.

On the first day of the convention a large deputation will ask President Coolidge to support the Lucretia Mott amendment, which reads:

"Men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction."

Sunday, December 2, a mass meeting of women will be held in the National Woman's party headquarters opposite the capitol, after which delegates will seek out the senators and representatives from their respective states to urge the passage of the amendment.

The measure will make its initial appearance in congress the first day of the session, Monday, December 3, when it will be presented by Charles Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip, it is said.

A national tag week is planned in connection with the convention.

WOMAN ON RAILROAD BOARD

The governor of North Carolina, Cameron Morrison, appointed Mrs. Palmer Jerman of Raleigh a director of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad. She is said to be the first woman to hold such a position in the state.

Glendale Builders Go to See Cement Plant

Members of the Builders' Exchange of Glendale and Concrete Products association of Southern California journeyed to Victorville on Saturday as guests of the Southwestern Portland Cement company, whose plant is located at that city.

Upon arrival at the plant a barbecue was partaken by all. During the afternoon a trip to the plant was thoroughly enjoyed by all, the manufacture of cement being indeed a very interesting subject.

Among the local men taking the trip were R. E. Johnston, president of the Concrete Products association of California, as well as of the Builders' Exchange of Glendale, and the following other Builders' Exchange members:

C. C. Coghlan, of the Concrete Brick and Tile company; B. F. Reynolds, brick contractor; W. C. Vanderwater, city building inspector; Ben F. Dupuy, city engineer; W. H. Hellman, May & Hellman, contractors; F. C. Butterfield, cesspool and sewer contractor: Henry Molz, secretary-manager of Builders' Exchange of Glendale.

ATHLETIC STARS AT LEGION MEET

Tennis, Aviation, Track and Field Events Listed on Week's Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Athletics are a big feature of the American Legion convention here, the program for the last three days being as follows:

Wednesday—Stars taking part in California state net tourney at Berkeley Tennis club will give exhibition for Legionnaires. They will include William Johnston, Vincent Richards, Manuel Alonzo of Spain, the Kinsey brothers, Harvey Snodgrass and Miss Helen Wills, women's national champion. On this afternoon, also, there will be a big aviation meet at Crissy field, in which army, navy and marine planes will demonstrate the latest pursuit stunts and tactics.

Thursday—This will be the big athletics day of the convention. National stars, including Joie Ray, Charlie Hunter, Charles Brookins of Iowa, George T. Bertsch of Buffalo and Clarence de Mar, Olympic games winner, will take part in a big track and field meet at University of California track.

Aquatic Meet

Simultaneously a national aquatics meet will be held at Neptune beach, Alameda. Among entrants are Al White, present national indoor springboard champ, and George Schroth, Pacific coast straight swim record man.

Friday—Soccer game at Stanford University between San Mateo post of the Legion and the British war veterans. This will be followed on the same grounds by a football match between the Mare Island sailors and Stanford University, in which Coach Andy Kerr of the latter will try out 100 of his second string men as well as the regulars.

Throughout the convention will be held a golf tournament, tennis tourney, national rifle meet at Leona Heights, in which the best Legion teams of the country are entered, and a $2,000 contest for the best band and drum corps represented at the convention.

Fight Made on Air Disarmament Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The American Legion aviation committee of which Major Reed Landis of Chicago is chairman, brought in a resolution at the business session of the Legion convention Tuesday afternoon calling for an increased aviation program for the United States which will bring this country up on an equality with other nations. Besides this it also recommended government assistance in establishing a commercial aviation fleet. This was taken to indicate that Major Landis will lead the fight against National Commander Owsley's air disarmament program.

Liner Resumes Trip After Pumping Hold

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—The steamer Ecuador of the Pacific Mail line sailed from here yesterday for the east coast with 130 passengers after arriving here with hold No. 2 flooded, presumably from a sea valve having been left open after the ship had been in dry dock.

Although Captain H. E. Boyce denied that anything was wrong with the ship, the steamer came into the harbor yesterday from San Francisco badly down at the head, and upon docking the crew immediately removed the cargo and the water was pumped out.

EAGLE ROCK

STAGE FESTIVAL THIS WEEK END

Harvest Home, Auspices of P.-T. A. at Central School Grounds

All Eagle Rock is making ready for the second annual Harvest Home Festival to be held Friday and Saturday of this week on the Central school grounds, under the auspices of the local Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. J. C. Reiter is president.

The purpose of the festival is to raise funds for school purposes. Carnivals will be held in the moonlight, with dancing and singing, Mrs. Reiter states, and there will be a number of concessions offering attractive articles for sale.

Saturday night supper will be served in the school cafeteria at 6:30 o'clock. In the evening Rev. W. D. Middlemass, new Presbyterian pastor, will sing.

"Eagle Rock looks forward to this Harvest Home Festival eagerly," says Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, in praising the work of Mrs. Reiter and her associates, who are laboring without stint to make this year's occasion surpass even the colorful carnival staged in 1922.

Children's Week

Sunday morning, October 21, will officially open Children's Week in Eagle Rock, when all pastors will make young folks the subject of their morning addresses.

In contrast to this topic, Wednesday night, October 24, at the Presbyterian church, will be devoted to an open meeting under the auspices of the local P.-T. A., when the discussion will be parents and their responsibilities in child rearing.

Continuing the Children's Week program, there will be a story-telling hour 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, October 26, at the Central or Eagle Rock school, reports C. W. Preston, principal. All children of the school will be present, and the program will be arranged for their pleasure.

C. of C. Banquet

A whole-hearted demonstration is being prepared by the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce to welcome back O. J. Root, president of the family, who with his family has been spending several months in the east, vacationing and looking after his business interests.

The principal speaker at this banquet will be Dr. Roberts, former president of the Champaign, Ill., C. of C.

Attention, patrons of the E line! The transportation committee of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce wants to hear your complaints. So says Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary of the chamber.

If you have to wait unduly, suffer discourtesy or are put to any other inconvenience, communicate either by 'phone or letter with the local C. of C., stating date, time, car number and, if possible, giving motorman's and conductor's numbers also, together with trip number of the car.

This latter is particularly important, according to Mr. Montgomery, and is obtained by consulting the front of the car.

"Only by co-operation with the officials of the company can any improvement be obtained—and that is what we of this committee are trying to do."

TUJUNGA

DELAY WIDENING OF MICHIGAN AVE.

Highway Commission to Take Proposal Up in Next Year's Program

According to a statement from the state highway commission in answer to inquiries as to what is being done on the proposal to widen the highway through the valley (Michigan avenue), the question will be taken up for next year's program. This year's program had been completed before the project was presented to the commission, according to the statement.

The highway-widening project has been supported by practically every civic organization along the route of the highway by a formal resolution by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley and by others interested in the improvement of this heavily-traveled route.

Plan Ice Factory

Judson A. Jenkins of Tujunga and Edward Greene of Glendale are preparing to build an ice factory in Tujunga and expect to have it ready for operation early next year. Mr. Greene has had practical experience in manufacturing and will superintend the building and equipping of the plant.

They believe that ice consumption in the Verdugo Hills has reached a stage where local manufacture will be justified. Loss from shrinkage and the labor involved make the present system of hauling from Glendale, the nearest distribution point, an expensive operation, with a corresponding high rate to the consumer.

Postal Receipts Increase

Postmaster Halferty has announced that the receipts for the quarter ending September 30 show a gain of 42 per cent over the previous quarter. This quarter is usually considered the dullest in the matter of mail traffic.

Victor Jacoby of Highland park has purchased a lot on Summit street between Sunset and San Ysidro and plans to build a home there. Mr. Jacoby will establish an agency in Tujunga for the Real Silk Hosiery Mills of Indianapolis, a firm he has been representing at Huntington Park.

Erect Office Building

A $2000 office building is being erected at the southwest corner of Pine and Michigan avenue, Tujunga, by Jeffries & Jeffries, contractors, for their own use and to lease.

The property is across the street from that recently purchased by the Valley Garage owners and has a frontage of 50 feet and depth of 175 feet. The building will be of stucco finish. There will be several offices that will be for rent.

J. M. Goode, with offices at Michigan avenue and Walnut drive, has opened a tract of five acres on the east side of Third street. The lots were offered at such attractive terms that many were sold before public announcement was made of the sale.

Plan Improvements

Application has been made to the railroad commission by the Haines Canyon Water company for permission to increase the bonded indebtedness of the company from $30,000 to $250,000, the money to be used for financing additions to the plant and extension of service.

Contractor R. J. Smith is putting the finishing touches to the office and exchange building being built at Palm and Los Angeles streets for the Sunland Rural Telephone company. The contract was undertaken with a thirty-day finishing agreement, but Smith expects to have the building ready for occupancy in less time.

Directors of the Tujunga Cemetery association have postponed the annual meeting until the second Monday in December. In the meantime a membership drive will be made and formalities attendant upon recording of the plat and completing the deed will be attended to.

At the December meeting it is expected that a new board of directors will be chosen. It is the object of the association to build up a representative membership and general community support.

The cemetery grounds have been surveyed and platted and the legal formalities have been begun to get the association started properly. Improvement of the ground and plans for maintenance will receive the attention of the directors in the next few months. For this work it is desirable that a board of directors be chosen by the people who are going to actively support the cemetery association. It is with this end in view that the membership campaign is to be inaugurated.

By-laws of the association provide that any person who pays $10 toward the purchase price of a lot or makes a donation of the same amount to the association treasury shall become a stockholder and be entitled to vote at all stockholders' meetings.

Build Machine Shop

Foundations have been laid and work started on a building on Michigan avenue east of Pine for W. Horne, who will install a machine shop. The property, 45 by 250 feet, was purchased from C. C. Niemeyer. Mr. and Mrs. Horne have taken the house at 149 North Fairview avenue for their home.

In anticipation of further increase in building in Tujunga the Independent Lumber company has installed a rip and cross-cut power saw in the Tujunga yard. This company has also bought a half acre north of the present yard to provide room for expansion.

Dogs Win Prizes

All three dogs entered by D. J. Warnick in the Hollywood Kennel club show won prizes.

Buddy Boy, who now takes ribbons as a matter of course, won third in class 316, American bred dogs. Sunny Jim won second prize in class 312 and third prize in class 314. Warnick's Queen won first prize in class 320 and third prize in class 328.

The Colonial Dancing club will resume activities for the winter, meeting at the Fine Arts Guild studio on Michigan avenue.

MONTROSE

RAISE FUNDS TO PAVE OCEAN VIEW

Property Owners to Collect $1000 Subscriptions to Carry Out Plans

Ocean View avenue, Montrose, will be paved and the expense covered by popular subscription, if a committee of property owners is successful in raising the necessary $1000.

This amount has been estimated as necessary in addition to the amount already appropriated for that purpose and the committee has been at work on the project.

Subdividers to Help

An agreement has been made by the developers of Sparr Heights to pave the portion of Ocean View avenue running through this tract as soon as work is started by the county. Property owners are hoping to raise funds in time to have the work completed this year.

Improvement of Ocean View avenue will provide another needed traffic artery to the upper valley and will relieve congestion on the main boulevards.

BIG ALASKAN FLOOD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—High tides, caused by severe rainstorms, have washed out 100 miles of government railroad in Alaska, the interior department announced late yesterday. Floods following the rains also destroyed two railroad bridges.

Hawaiian main group contains eight islands with a total area of 6,405 square miles.

LA CRESCENTA

FIRE THREATENS CRESCENTA HOMES

Residents Prepare to Flee as Verdugo Holocaust Menaces District

Consternation reigned supreme in this section on Saturday, when the fire starting in the La Canada district, blazed down the hills toward Montrose and La Crescenta.

The freak high winds prevailing, blew the flames toward this district, for a time, in the middle of the day. Many families threw their clothes and valuables into cars ready to drive out to safer zones.

All the men available in the community fought for hours. Fire Chief Young would have been able to get re-inforcements, almost at the starting of the fires, but as usual the phone was out of order.

My Verdugos

My hills, my beautiful Verdugos,
Wrapped in streaming banners of flame,
My hills, my own Verdugos
In song and rhyme, oft famed.

Winds fan the fires about you,
Smoke clouds envelope you o'er,
Your glorious trees that for centuries stood,
Burning, to be no more.

Dawn, and my own Verdugos
Are sere and barren and gray,
And the glory of the ages, is burned and carried away.
But the noble hills rise proudly
From their ashes and their doom,
My hills, my own Verdugos.

Sprains Ankle

Friends of Miss Margaret Hauber will be sorry to learn of her accident which resulted in a sprained ankle. Miss Hauber will, of course, be confined to her home for some time.

Mrs. Viola Carpenter has left for San Francisco to visit her son, H. A. Carpenter, who is an attorney in the bay city. Mrs. Carpenter will be gone for a month or more.

Mr. Warner, owner and subdivider of Crescenta Heights, is going to give away the last lot in this subdivision, free. All one needs to do is to go over to the office and register. The drawing of the winner's name will not be very far off, at the rate lots in this acreage are selling at present.

opened our trunks and gave them our clothing and comforted them as best we could.

"Within an hour's time all of Yokohama, with the exception of one steel building, had been destroyed after the earthquake on the Saturday before the Monday we arrived.

"It is the popular opinion that the newspapers always picture events too melodramatically, but they couldn't tell the real horrors of the Japanese tragedy.

"Already plans are being made for rebuilding Yokohama and Tokio, and it is possible that the harbor will be changed to Tokio. The people have long desired this, and now that the cities must be rebuilt from the ground up the Tokio harbor will possibly be dredged and recognized as the real harbor."

Mrs. March to Speak

At the close of the luncheon it was announced that Mrs. O. W. March, vice-president of the California State Federation of Women's Clubs, has been invited to be honored guest and speaker at the next club luncheon.

From the banquet room the club members met in the auditorium for a business half hour, directed by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, and then listened to a delightful musical program by the Philharmonic trio, Jules Lepske, violinist; Earl Bright, 'cellist; Alfred Kastner, harpist; accompanied by Gertrude Frohman Jones, pianist.

At the club meeting next week Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California director for the general federation, will speak on "Organized Women and the Movements For the Betterment of Life."
